Massachusetts Agricultural College—1867

The Staff Of The

1962 INDEX PRESENTS:

A Pictorial History Of The University Of Massachusetts

"BE IT ENACTED BY THE SENATE AND HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA THAT THERE BE GRANTED TO THE SEVERAL STATES . . . AN AMOUNT OF PUBLIC LAND . . ."

With these words, taken from the 1862 Morrill Land Grant Act, Massachusetts Agricultural College became a reality.

Many years have passed and the original Mass. "Aggie" has evolved into a great University which, on the eve of its 100th anniversary, can look in retrospect at nearly a century of progress.

Although the doors for the new college were opened in 1863, the first class did not arrive until 1867, mainly due to the fact that many administrative and organizational problems had to be solved.

Beginning in 1867 with a class of thirty three, four borrowed instructors, and four wooden buildings, the College underwent a process of development and expansion sufficient to warrant the official changing of its name in 1947 to the University of Massachusetts. This act alone seems to have provided further impetus to progress.

To all of you who share the common heritage of the University of Massachusetts, may 1963 be a year in which you will try to recall what the past may have been like. Try also to bring to mind all the things the University means to you today, small or great, and you will then realize why the motto for the 1963 Centennial year is Toward Higher Learning More Widely Disseminated.

'Twas A Long While Ago

THE PIONEER CLASS OF 1871 had twenty-eight members. Shown above are twenty-four of that first group to leave Massachusetts Agricultural College.

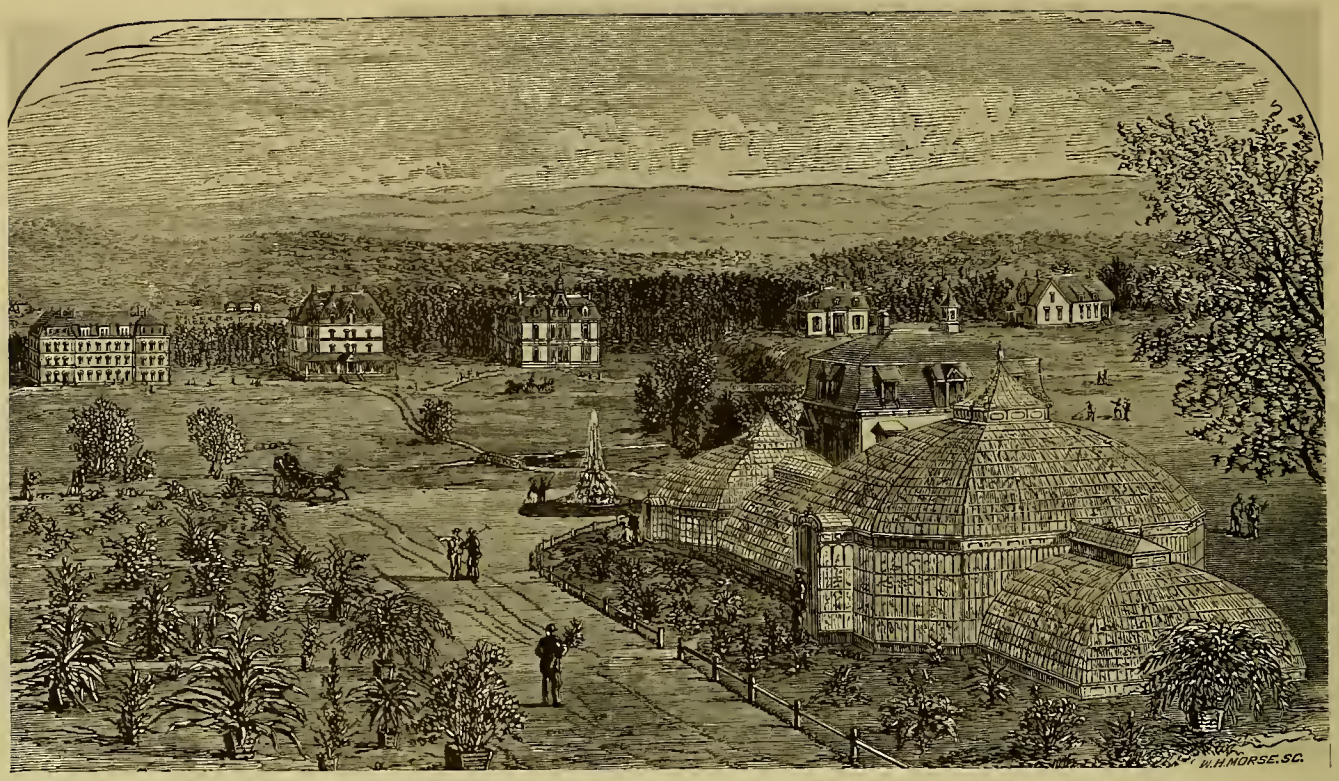

Some Were In Broadcloth . . .
Some In Homespun . . .

THE INFANT COLLEGE opened its doors in the fall of 1867 for the thirty odd entering freshmen. They were a "motley lot." Some were in broadcloth, and some in homespun. Their belongings were ill-assorted: trunks, bags, boxes; here a bedstick; yonder a basket of apples.

The first examination was elementary: the three R's, a little geography and the like. One of the questions in arithmetic was this: "Seven men laid a piece of wall sixty-five feet long in twelve days. Again eleven men laid a wall of the same kind in ten days. How long was it?"

HENRY F. FRENCH, THE FIRST PRESIDENT of the new college, served from 1863 to 1867. No students were in attendance during his period in office, principally because of the many problems which had to be solved. A location had to be decided on and buildings had to be constructed.

AN EARLY ENGRAVING depicting Massachusetts Agricultural College in 1867. The original copy of this engraving was sent by President Clark to Justin Morill, the senator responsible for the introduction of the Land Grant Act, in a letter inviting him to the 1871 commencement exercises.

IT WAS IN 1887 that Cadet Amadeo de Almeida, a Brazilian student at the college, gave this picture to his friend and classmate, Edgar Barrett.

TO YOUNG MEN.

THE TRUSTEES OF THE MASSA-chusetts Agricultural College have placed 150 Free Scholarships at the disposal of the Alumni, amounting to $300 each, equal to the cost of tuition for the course. These scholarships will be given to worthy young men who can pass the entrance examination. The College is located in the delightful town of Amherst, in the valley of the Connecticut, on a beautiful farm of 400 acres. It affords a thorough English education, and a good knowledge of Agriculture, Engineering, Chemistry, Botany, and many other sciences; in short, fits a young man to be a practical farmer, or to enter business, or study the professions. The locality is so healthful, and the physical training such, that many young men who have entered with poor health, have returned home, not only with a well-stored and disciplined mind, but strong in body. The additional expense for those receiving the scholarships need not be over $150 a year, and an industrious student can earn, if he desires, a portion of that amount at work on the farm, after performing his daily College duties. A farmer's son, or any young man who wants to get a good education, should apply at once for one of these scholarships.

For information concerning entrance examination, &c., apply to Prof. S. T. MAYNARD, Amherst, Mass., Secretary of the Alumni. 29—32

Pride In An Infant College; From It Dreams Became Realities

THE SECOND PRESIDENT, William S. Clark, served from 1867 to 1879. His dedication and determination brought the small college through the many difficulties it faced in its early years.

LEVI STOCKBRIDGE was president from 1880 to 1882. Once, hearing that the newly formed Phi Sigma Kappa fraternity needed money for furniture, he offered to lend the money personally.

HENRY HILL GOODELL SERVED a long term as president, holding office from 1886 until 1905. He took over the presidency from his office in the library. Previous to being librarian, he had taught French, German, English, and gymnastics and also served a term in the State Senate.

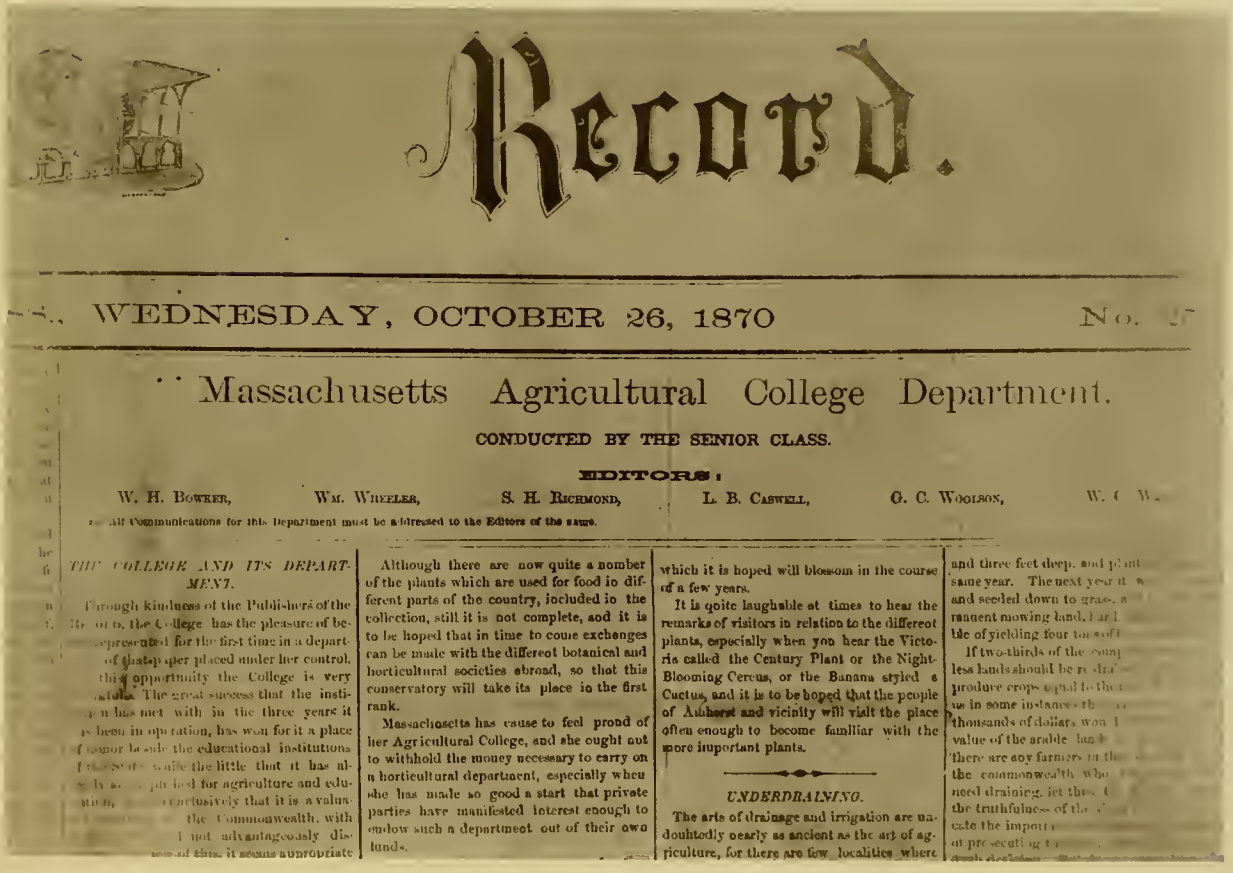

"OLD SOUTH COLLEGE," the first college dormitory, shown in 1867 before the rebuilding and extension. It housed 46 students and one professor. The lower floor was left for recitation and library rooms. It was subsequently destroyed by fire in 1885.

"OLD CHAPEL" erected in 1867 at a cost of $10,360. It was first used as a chemical laboratory and chapel and later as a drill hall. In 1885 it was renovated and became known as College Hall.

THE FIRST PUBLISHED VOICE of the "Aggie" boys was given them as a small section of the Amherst Record.

The 1900's—A New Era

LOOK OUT FOR THOSE WINDOWS! An early baseball game takes place on the green in front of Old Chapel. Alumni field now provides a much safer place to play.

THE EARLY 1900's brought with them the hope of a new century . . . in 1902 varsity basketball was introduced . . . Dr. Fernald relinquished $1500 of his salary to permit a new position in his department . . . 1906—Butterfield, grandson of a Michigan pioneer, became president . . . 1908—a graduate school and some fifty new courses were introduced . . . 1909—the College Signal became a weekly campus publication and in 1914 became the Massachusetts Collegian.

SHOWN ABOVE is a laboratory in the old chemistry building located south of the ravine. It was later destroyed by fire in 1922.

Something Looks Familiar

THE THEME IS ECONOMICAL TRANSPORTATION in this scene in the early 1900's. In the background is Draper Hall, built in 1902 as a dining hall to replace the little wooden building which had become inadequate. In 1912 its facilities were increased to provide accommodations for nearly all students.

1918 ARRIVED AND WAR CLOUDS LOOMED—Readiness was the byword as these cadets took part in bayonet practice.

THESE CADETS GOT A CHANCE to try out their pitching arms, the only difference being that they are throwing grenades instead of baseballs.

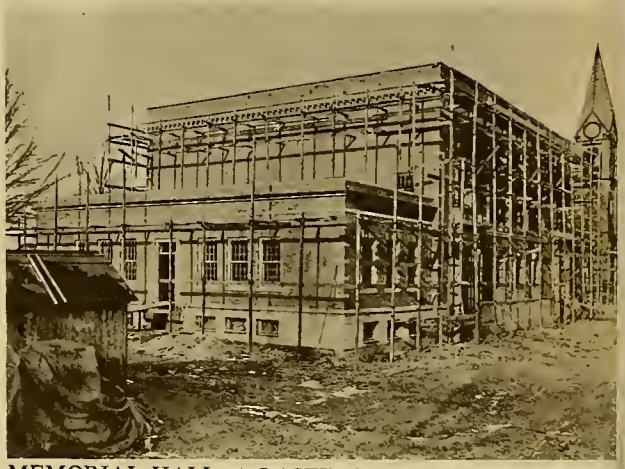

IT WAS THE WINTER of 1918 and some of these men would never meet again.

We Will Keep Faith With You Who Sleep . . .

THE WAR PERIOD AT M.A.C. was a grim one. The freshman banquet was not held. There were no varsity football or baseball games. Even the 1918 commencement exercises were not held. Military service reduced the student enrollment to what one member of the class of '21 called "a half dozen co-eds and a handful of army rejects."

MEMORIAL HALL, A LASTING MEMORY to those who lost their lives, is shown nearing its completion in 1921.

FOOTBALL WAS IN THE AIR as the men from M.A.C. defeated the men from neighboring Amherst College, 10-6, on that fall day in 1922.

PROFESSOR CURRY HICKS, who came to M.A.C. in 1911, did much to further the athletic program. Under his leadership, plans for Alumni Field became a reality.

SHOWN BELOW IS THE PHYSICAL EDUCATION BUILDING in 1930 just before its completion.

Kenyon Butterfield– Alexandrian Hopes

THE WAR WAS OVER but its memory still lingered. Memorial Hall was completed in 1921 and that same year 194 disabled veterans were enrolled . . . 1922—the old chemistry building burned, and in 1924 the new $300,000 Goessmann laboratory was built to replace it . . . Boston legislators began to sit up and take notice of the small agricultural college, mainly due to the efforts of President Kenyon Butterfield . . . 1926—the interfraternity sing and Homecoming Day were inaugurated . . . 1927—President Thatcher took office.

PRESIDENT KENYON BUTTERFIELD held office from 1905 to 1924. As long as he was in office he was the zealous advocate of a greater and more versatile institution.

Fraternities—A Parallel Growth

IN 1869 THE FIRST FRATERNITY, Q. T. V., a Latin fraternity, was founded on the Massachusetts campus. A plaque on the wall of South College commemorates that event. Since that time fraternity life has grown in a manner parallel to that of the University. There are now eight sororities and fifteen fraternities, the latest addition being Zeta Nu Fraternity this past year. Besides highlighting the year with Greek Week in the spring and the snow sculptures during Winter Carnival, the Greeks have recently initiated Christmas parties for needy children in the area.

MASSACHUSETTS STATE COLLEGE at commencement time in 1941—The peaceful atmosphere which prevailed in the Spring of '41 was not felt again until 1946. The advent of World War II had a strong effect on campus life as military service made its inevitable claim. The male enrollment was reduced to a minimum with co-eds taking over the fraternities as living quarters.

A University

Is Born

1947 — THE COLLEGE BECOMES THE UNIVERSITY OF MASSACHUSETTS! At last the hopes of men like President Van Meter became realities. Doors were opened which would start a new era of expansion. More dormitories were soon built to cope with the projected increase in enrollment and the School of Engineering was established to meet the obligations of a university.

PRESIDENT RALPH VAN METER, who served from 1948 to 1954. With the help of his many efforts, the changing of the College's name to the University of Massachusetts became a reality.

BEFORE THE STUDENT UNION CAME INTO BEING, students had to have somewhere to go for their coffee breaks. The old "C" store, or College Store as it was officially known, provided the answer.

THE TIME IS 1946. The construction of these dormitories was part of the great expansion program which was about to begin.

THE TRADITIONAL ROPE PULL was always the scene of excitement as the freshman and sophomore teams battled for supremacy. It looks like a draw here but within a few moments there were probably a few drenched individuals.

PRESIDENT JEAN PAUL MATHER at his inauguration ceremony. On his right is the Governor of Massachusetts at that time, Christian A. Herter. President Mather held office from 1954 to 1960. He will be well remembered for his strong efforts for faculty pay raises.

Hokkaido—A Symbol Of Good Will

IN 1876 PRESIDENT WILLIAM CLARK of Massachusetts Agricultural College went to Japan and was mainly responsible for founding Hokkaido University. A close association between the schools followed, though tapering off somewhat after 1900. In 1956 Pres. Mather, Dean of Agriculture Sieling, and Prof. Zahradnik of Agricultural Engineering attended the celebration of Hokkaido's 80th year. From this trip resulted a renewal of the initial ties and a pledge for future cooperation.

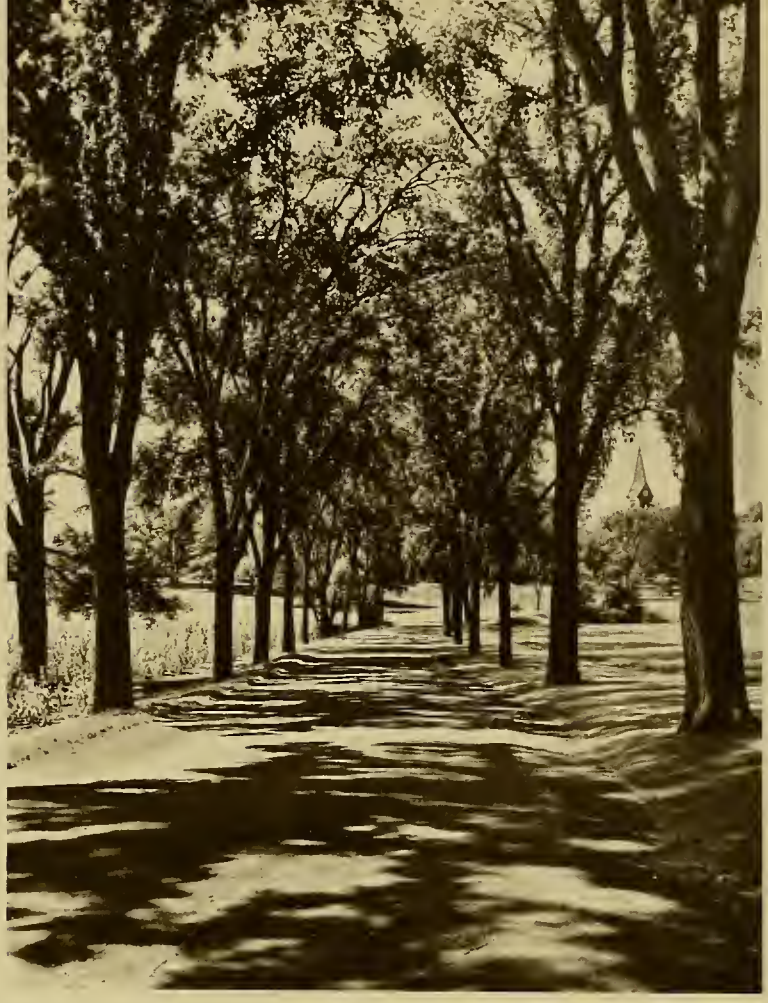

SHOWN ABOVE is the main entrance to Hokkaido University.

HOKKAIDO STUDENTS relax in the warm Japanese sun. Nearby are the Botanical Gardens.

AS THE UNIVERSITY EXPANDED the need arose for more classrooms, more dormitories, and finally a more complete round of facilities for student recreation. The old "C" store was just a thing of the past. The students needed more than just a place for their coffee breaks. The need was filled in 1957 by the modern Student Union Building which provides not only student offices, meeting rooms, and lounges, but also facilities for movies, television, bowling and dancing as well as a large cafeteria.

THESE ATTRACTIVE MEMBERS of the Class of '62 were only sophomores at the time of this picture but like most sophomores probably felt that they were "oldtimers."

WHETHER IT BE studying, sketching, strumming a guitar or just relaxing, Campus Pond has always seemed to provide just the atmosphere, particularly on a lazy Spring day such as this.

Their appearance took place just before the lighting of the Christmas tree, a gift to the Center from the Commonwealth of Massachusetts. Directed by Joseph Contino, the band also presented holiday music on a special live television show on NBC-TV.

The Goal—15,000 Students In 1975

WITH ITS PROJECTED goal of 15,000 students in 1975, the University of Massachusetts will further establish itself as a leader in public education. Public institutions as a whole are taking on more and more of the responsibility of meeting the diverse educational needs of our country and the University is no exception.

THIS AERIAL VIEW OF THE CAMPUS is only two years old but already substantial changes have been made. Besides the opening of the new infirmary, additions to the Morrill Science Center, Hasbrouck Laboratory, and Dining Commons are in progress. Out of view but also in the construction stages are a new engineering laboratory, a new Conservation building and a modern Newman Center.

SHANNON McCUNE, former Provost, who recently left to take a position with UNESCO. His willingness to listen to both students and faculty, his thoughtful solutions, his steadiness and humor in trying situations—all endeared him to those who had the privilege of knowing him.

A UNIVERSITY ZOOLOGIST has been awarded a grant of $82,000 by the U.S. Public Health Service for a three year study of the world of living cells utilizing the ELECTRON MICROSCOPE on the left. Dr. Everett Anderson will use its highly complex "eye" for a closer look at the inner composition of parts of cells from different kinds of animals.

DR. RICHARD STEIN IS INTERNATIONALLY KNOWN for his work in polymer research. Recently named to a Commonwealth Professorship, Dr. Stein has presented, by invitation, papers at two international conferences—the 1957 International Symposium on Macro-Molecular Chemistry and the 1958 International Polymer Conference.

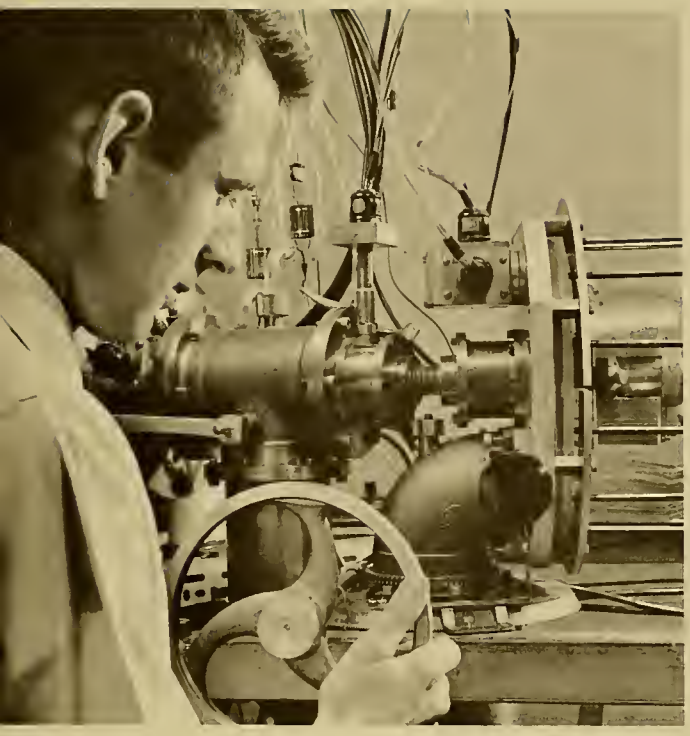

The Age Of Science

WITH THE RECENT STRESS on science and technology, colleges and universities are being called upon to provide men of science both for instruction and research. Realizing these needs, the University is continually expanding its facilities for research and undergraduate study. As a result, numerous grants are being awarded for critical research. The greatly increased number of corporations interviewing seniors in the Spring is also sharply indicative of the quality of University science and engineering graduates.

THE MAIN ENGINEERING BUILDING houses facilities for Electrical, Mechanical, Industrial, and Civil Engineering. Facilities for Chemical Engineering are principally in Goessmann Chemistry Laboratory. Behind the main building are Gunness Laboratory and the new $800,000 Engineering Shops Laboratory.

BUILT BY 31-YEAR-OLD DR. PHILLIPS JONES, assistant professor of Physics, this HOME-MADE ATOMIC GUN is an important research weapon at the University. Financed by a $60,000 National Science Foundation grant, the "gun" is being used by Dr. Jones to study the behavior of atoms in close collision.

DR. LINDSEY OF CHEMICAL ENGINEERING discusses some aspects of the recently acquired nuclear reactor in Goessman Laboratory. One of its uses is by nuclear physics students who use it to measure the half-lives of radio-active material.

TURMOIL REIGNS as Coach "Chuck" Studley is carried off the field by his players after the 1960 New Hampshire game. The victory gave the Redmen co-ownership of the Yankee Conference title. The year, one of the best in UMass. history, was highlighted by an upset win over Harvard. The following year, the University was elevated to major college football status.

1961 COMMENCEMENT EXERCISES—Every year the class is larger.

The Past Is Not Forgotten

AS YEAR AFTER YEAR GOES BY the past can easily be forgotten, stirred only by class reunions such as that by the members of the Class of '01 shown on the right. As we approach 1963, the year of the University's Centennial, however, we begin to look back at the tradition, the sentiment, and the memories which have been a part of every graduating class. Suddenly, it all seems as though it could have been yesterday. Indeed, the past is with us on this, the eve of the Centennial.

PROPOSED PHYSICAL EDUCATION BUILDING

PROPOSED SCHOOL OF BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION. Work is scheduled to begin soon on the $2,000,000 building, which will have as one of its assets a 500 seat teaching auditorium.

THE MILLION DOLLAR INFIRMARY AT THE UNIVERSITY was officially opened in January. Besides an 88-bed capacity, it has a well equipped physiotherapy room and a new laboratory for chemical and bacteriological procedures. It also has an emergency operating room and a modern X-ray room.

THE OLD AND THE NEW—The remnants of an old tree seem to be standing in direct opposition to the new liberal arts building, Bartlett Hall, opened for use in 1960.

Index Princess For 1962

TIME OUT is the appropriate title of the album Sue Lydon is holding in the picture above. Likewise the staff of the Index decided to take time out to show the male high school seniors who may look over the Index why there is nothing like a co-ed university.

Our favorite this year is freshman Sue Lydon, a Botany major from Waltham, Mass. Sue, a member of Chi Omega sorority, is also the reigning Military Ball Queen, otherwise known as Honorary Cadet Colonel for 1962. Easy to see why gentlemen prefer blondes!

DEAN OF STUDENTS WILLIAM FIELD

1962 INDEX—

A Dedication To Dr. Field

"We're Glad To Have You Aboard"

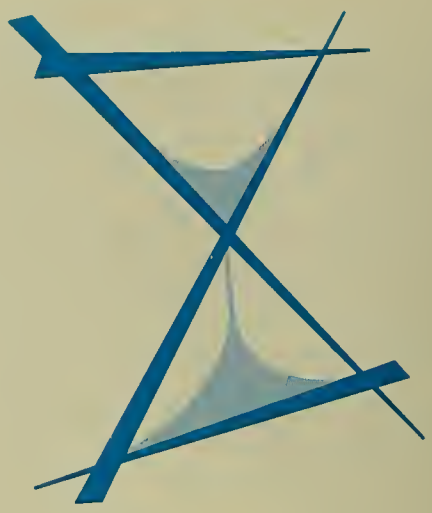

NOW A DEAN, ALWAYS A FRIEND. Dean Field, busier than ever, never hesitates to take a minute out to talk with students. As the principal link for student-administration relationships he has become a valuable asset to students who want to be heard.

Dr. Field received his B.S. degree from Westchester (Pa.) State Teachers College, Ed.M. from Temple Univ. and his Ph.D. from the University of Maryland.

A former research analyst for the U.S. Public Health Service, he was appointed to the University of Massachusetts staff as a guidance officer in 1951, and in 1958 became Director of Guidance. In that post he was largely responsible for the introduction of the summer counseling program.

On July 1961, he became President Lederle's choice as the new Dean of Students, a position designed to meet the student-faculty communication needs of the rapidly expanding University.

To you Dr. Field, the staff of the 1962 Index would like to express the sentiments of the rest of the student body: "We're mighty glad to have you aboard."

MASSACHUSETTS LIFE

Give Me An M . . . !

1961 BROUGHT A NEW COACH and new spirit to the University of Massachusetts football team. Under the direction of head coach Vic Fusia the team represented the school spirit in its best tradition, getting a boost from the student rallies held before each home game. Adelphia, assisted by the Maroon Key and with the able support of the Marching Band, the Precisionettes, and the Cheerleaders, led the students to enthusiastic demonstrations of support for the team. The rallies were climaxed by a soaring bonfire and a rock and roll dance which provided the height of pre-game spirit.

Alumni Take Over For A Weekend

HOMECOMING 1961 was one of the most successful in many years, with more alumni than ever before returning to view the expanding University. The festive weekend began with a very colorful float parade Friday night followed by an enthusiastic rally where one of the most beautiful queens and court in recent years were presented to the students and alumni. Saturday began with a tailgate picnic enjoyed by the alumni and their families. This was followed by a thrilling game at which a capacity crowd saw the Redmen defeat their traditional rivals, Rhode Island 25-0. The weekend was climaxed by fraternity parties which brought many old friends together.

Everyone Loves A Parade

USING MUCH IMAGINATION and hard work the Greeks and the dorms produced some of the most elaborate and colorful floats ever seen on campus. The parade route was packed with spectators viewing the floats whose themes concentrated on encouraging the team to win. The fraternity first prize went to Theta Chi while Kappa Alpha Theta won first place sorority honors. Victorious for the men's dorms was Van Meter and Dwight captured the honors for the girl's dorms.

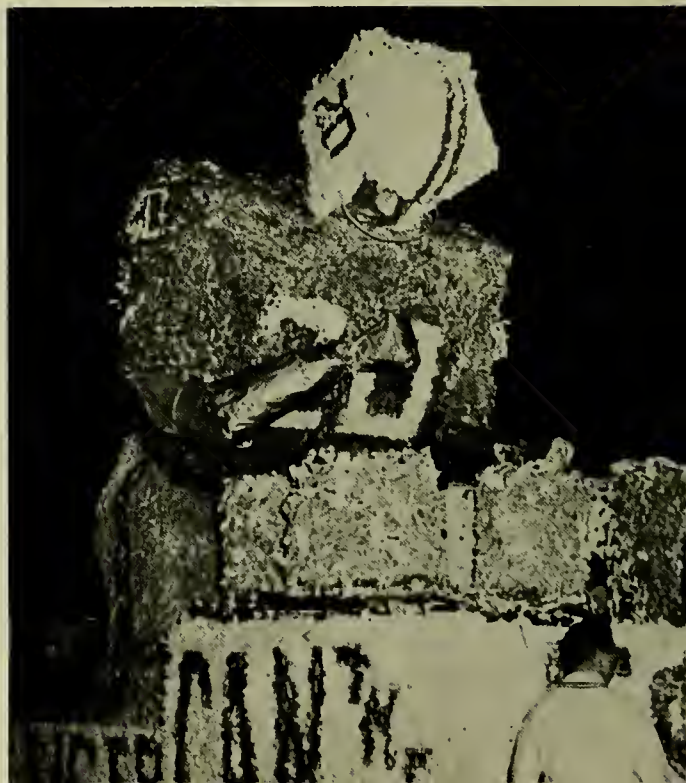

THETA CHI CAPTURED first place in the fraternity competition with their float "Over the Rhode to Victory."

A.E.PI'S GALLEY was a real crowd pleaser as it floated along the parade route with wet crew members.

Oklahoma—Here I Come

THE OPERETTA GUILD this year turned out a performance which has been compared favorably with the 1959 Guild production of "Bells Are Ringing", previously considered as one of the best efforts in the Guild's history. Michael Hench and Sue Spearen did an excellent job in presenting the warmth of their respective lead roles as Curley and Laurie. Jean Alden delighted the audience as she sang and danced, playing to perfection her role as the rollicking, irresponsible Ado Annie. Choreography, settings, choral arrangements, and orchestrations all were well presented. All of which went towards making "Oklahoma" the tremendous success that it was.

JEAN ALDEN as "Ado Annie" and Jane Abbiatti as "Aunt Eller" receive a lecture from Frank Mancuso as "Ali".

These Greeks Are Really "Hams" At Heart

ON FRIDAY, DECEMBER 8, the fraternities presented their annual skits. The Greeks put in much time and hard work into their various and sundry productions which delighted an overflow crowd at Bowker Auditorium. Theta Chi took third place with its clever parody on the history of the dance, while Zeta Nu placed second by presenting their rendition of "Old Mass Aggie." Capturing first place was Sig Ep and their first rate fiasco entitled "The Good Ship Fraternity."

AS THE FOUR LOCAL INSTITUTIONS continue to expand their programs they realize the need for cooperation and mutual use of facilities. Many students enrolled at Smith, Mt. Holyoke, Amherst, and the University are now taking courses at one of the other schools.

READING FROM ONE of his books Robert Frost charms a delighted audience.

Miles To Go Before I Sleep

IN ONE OF HIS too infrequent appearances in this area, Robert Frost captivated a capacity crowd in the Student Union Ballroom. Delighting the audience with his poetry reading plus personality, he showed his true greatness as the evening proved to be memorable for all.

AFTER THE PERFORMANCE, Mr. Frost autographs copies of his book for students.

Freshmen Meet The "Round Robin"

EVERY YEAR DURING FIRST SEMESTER, the sororities hold "Round Robin." This is a day set aside when groups of freshmen girls are taken around to each of the sorority houses. This gives the girls a chance to meet some of the sisters and get a too-short introduction to sorority life. Everyone was pleased this year as there was a large turnout of freshmen and an enjoyable day was had by all.

A FRESHMAN GIRL GETS the full treatment as the sisters close in on her.

THE COURTROOM SCENE where Volpone is being accused of promiscuity and Canina pleads for his innocence.

It Happened In Venice

THE ROISTER DOISTERS, under the able direction of Miss Doris Abramson, presented one of their most laudable performances this year, thereby enhancing a long standing tradition of excellent entertainment. Stephen Flagg's adaptation of Ben Jonson's "Volpone" left the full house audience with the feeling that they had witnessed a professionally produced and acted stage show, a fact confirmed by the five curtain calls on closing night. The members of the cast including Mick Broadhurst as Volpone, the magnificent scoundrel; Hal Hind as Mosca, double-dealing servant of Volpone; and Bev DeMarco as Canina, an honored member of the world's oldest profession; portrayed their parts extremely well in the witty but satirical mood of the comedy. Hats off to a fine production.

MOSCA LAUGHS as the servants practice being "marry" so they can cheer up Volpone when he comes in.

IT LOOKS like she's going to fade in a minute or two—or has she already?

BUCKLE UP, ERNIE, your date will be off that guy's lap any minute now.

Various Remedies Found For "Senioritis"

ALL WORK AND NO PLAY makes Jack a dull boy and that's just the way the seniors felt about the whole situation Dec. 1 at the annual senior mix held at the Quonset Club. Rollicking and twisting to the tune of the Electras for four hours, the class of 62 showed that they hadn't forgotten how to have a good time. Featuring the afternoon were the Musigals, the new female vocal group on campus.

OKAY, VINNIE, see if you can pour a little on his other leg now that you've got that one good and wet.

THAT THING REPRESENTS quite an investment, boy. Handle it with care.

YETH THIR, I've got my date for tonight.

THIS ENTIRE DISPLAY of conformistic rowdyism utterly nauseates me. Father warned me against this type of thing.

THAT'S AL BERMAN of the Collegian and I think he's got himself a story. Or is that his date?

OH JOE, you stinker you.

WHEN THIS GUY SAYS something, he doesn't mess around. I dunno, maybe he just smells like onions.

O K SCHULTZ, you can carry this buddy-friend-pal-chum business just so far.

Seniors Do A Little Bit Of "Outside Reading"

IT'S OKAY LOU. Let the guy take the picture. I know that Marianne thinks you're at church but she'll never know a thing about it.

IS THAT THE WAY they did it down in Brazil, Gabby?

THE MUSIGALS LOOK like they're about to get canned—literally that is.

THERE WERE A FEW TALL GIRLS at the mix. We should let Matt Zunic know about them.

SHOWN HERE is part of the large contingent of military men who made an appearance at the ball. ARE YOU IN THERE SOMEWHERE?

The cadets have a ball.

FORGETTING ABOUT TACTICS for an evening, the R.O.T.C. contingent of the University took time out long enough to hold their annual military ball in the Student Union Ballroom on Dec. 9. Sue Lydon, a freshman from Waltham, was crowned as Honorary Colonel by Janet Wehman, the outgoing colonel.

IT'S WAR STORY TIME AS THESE CADETS tell their dates about some of their exploits at summer camp . . . If their dates only knew.

OH YOU BIG HANDSOME CADET YOU—Are you really going to protect me from those nasty Russians.

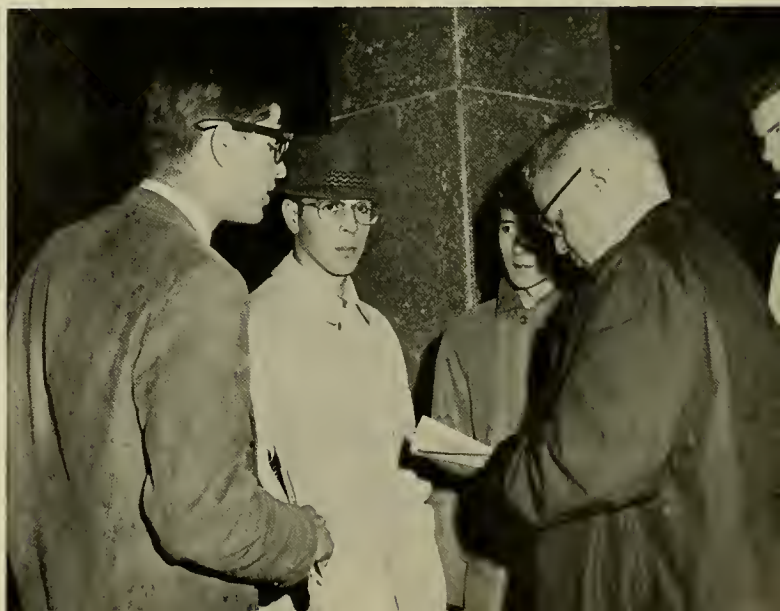

Anti ROTC pickets voice their views.

PICKETS TURN UP in the oddest places. So it was that a group of students calling themselves the Committee for the Abolition of Compulsory R.O.T.C. took to the Student Union on the night of the Ball. The demonstration, lasting about an hour, was generally a peaceful one.

PAUL THEROUX, THE BRAINS behind the whole affair seems to be getting his credentials checked.

MY DEAR, there's something I want to ask you . . . ah . . . it's rather personal.

ROUND AN' ROUND AN' ROUND we go. Let's twist, man! These military balls are not like they used to be.

Our Sorority Belles Have Their Day

SORORITY VOICES ARE USED all year long to call up boyfriends, gossip over the phone, buzz about freshman girls and giggle in classrooms when they shouldn't. A big switch occurred on Dec. 3 when the annual sorority sing and declamation took place in Bowker Auditorium. These same voices grouped together to present one of the finest sings in years with Kappa Kappa Gamma taking first place with "Velvet Shoes" and "I Enjoy Being A Girl." Second place was won by Kappa Alpha Theta with their rendition of "Preludium" and "HI HO Nobody Home". Chi Omega was third with "Oh Mary Don't You Weep" and "This Is My Beloved."

Sigma Delta Tau's Sandra Segal took first place in the declamation with her presentation of "Medea." Carol Esonis of Kappa Kappa Gamma was second with "Saint Joan." Sue Lemanis from Pi Beta Phi was third. She gave a humorous version of "Pink and Patches."

OUR NEWEST SORORITY, LAMBDA DELTA PHI, was represented by Madeline Marsella with her presentation of Edgar Allen Poe's "The Telltale Heart."

THETA'S BEV BETELHO catches the mood of "Look Back In Anger."

CHI OMEGA CAPTURED THIRD PLACE with their version of "This Is My Beloved" and "Oh Mary Don't You Weep."

SWINGIN' Taj Mahal, who has entertained at many parties on campus, was a popular favorite at the show.

Who needs an echo chamber?

THE ANNUAL ARTS AND MUSIC Talent Show was held Friday night, November 10 in the Student Union Ballroom. A large audience watched a very talented variety of acts from singing to dancing. Third place went to Margaret Loomis, a vocalist from Amherst, with Gail Brunnelle, a folk singer from the Abbey, taking second place honors. First place winners were Barry Briss and Mike Buckman with their fine guitar playing and singing. The Freshman class made its debut with a fine representation of talent including the famous Taj Mahal. Audience and performers alike had a good time.

HAVE YOU EVER seen something really unique on campus and said "Oh, if I only had a camera?" Well, some of the INDEX photographers have felt that way and have been lucky enough to have their cameras with them. Shown here are a few examples of what happens when the camera clicks.

Pennsylvanians Come To Town

FRED WARING and his Pennsylvanians presented a well received program to a large crowd in the cage. The program was very diversified including vocal and instrumental solos, full orchestra and choral numbers, and separate choral groups. The high point of the evening was the special tribute to America in music, which was presented by the entire group.

CAPTIVATING THE AUDIENCE was this appealing young lady and her accordion solos.

Sophs, Frosh, hold their own mix

THE ANNUAL SOPH-FROSH NIGHT was a fine success with both classes having a good time. The activities included swimming, volleyball, cheering, and a basketball game between the soph and frosh men. Spontaneous demonstrations also sprang up during the evening to provide many extra laughs. The night was climaxed by a very enjoyable dance with refreshments being served amid a little hand holding.

THERE'S ALWAYS one dud in the crowd.

The Sounds of Jazz; Kenton vs. Dixieland

THE JAZZ DOCTORS, playing to a near capacity audience in the SU Ballroom gave the crowd their usual fine interpretation of jazz—Dixieland style. They have been a favorite for several years at fraternity parties and weekend concerts.

Old Man Winter Comes Just In Time For Winter Carnival 1962

WE THOUGHT THERE WOULD NOT BE a flake of snow on the ground for the Winter Carnival festivities but finally, just a few days before things were to start happening, Old Man Winter came through with about a foot of beautiful white snow.

This late snowfall naturally provided a problem as the fraternities, et al, had to go like the "dickens" to get their sculptures built on time. Everyone came through, however, and all of the winter masterpieces turned out to be not the biggest but possibly the most clever efforts to be seen around the campus in many a year.

SKIP OAKES, JUNIOR CLASS PRESIDENT, keeps his fingers crossed for snow.

THE MYSTERY SNOWMAN made his appearance at the Providence game. WHOEVER HEARD of a snowman wearing galoshes?

OUR SCULPTURE TURNED OUT TO BE a mess but we sure had a lot of fun in the process. Their sculpture really was a good one because these Pi Phi's were just hamming it up a bit for the camera.

CAROL MADISON, PAM O'DONNELL, GLENDA STOCKWELL, LEE PORTER, DOLLY GRINUK. What in the world are you doing, girls?

WATCH OUT, CAROL! Carol Madison doesn't seem to know what to expect as President Lederle is about to put the crown on her head.

A FEW MOMENTS LATER bring a great big smile from the new WINTER CARNIVAL QUEEN.

A New Queen Is Crowned

EMOTION, EXCITEMENT, and a month of suspense . . . and then . . . a new queen is crowned! The lucky princess to be selected for that honor this year was Carol Madison, a junior from Pittsfield, majoring in speech. To enhance her majesty was a court of four other very attractive co-eds. The picture of these other girls will speak for their pulchritude.

CONGRATULATIONS and a kiss or two are in order.

With A Continental Flair

DICK MALTBY, AND HIS ORCHESTRA swing out with everything from cha chas to charlestons. This was Dick's second appearance at the University.

WITH A CONTINENTAL FLAIR was the theme not only for this year's Winter Carnival Ball but for the entire weekend. The ballroom was decorated to add an international flavor and music for dancing was provided for by Dick Maltby's orchestra. Dick also played at last year's Carnival Ball.

Inevitably, some of the customers did the "twist" to some of Maltby's numbers which were not intended as such but who cares as long as everyone has a good time?

Highlights of the ball were the crowning of Carol Madison as Winter Carnival Queen and the disclosure of assistant Dean of Men Wm. Burkhardt as the Mystery Snowman.

THE IDENTITY OF THE MYSTERY SNOWMAN was disclosed at the ball. Here BARRY WEINER, Publicity Chairman, is about to let everyone know that it is really BILLY BURKHARDT!

TWIST, TWIST, TWIST. YOU CAN'T get away from it—even at the ball. Everyone is doing it these days—even the Duchess of Windsor.

WHEN ARE WE going to see the girls wearing these things around campus. The model here is AMY CLAYMAN.

AS PART OF THE WINTER CARNIVAL fashion show this lovely co-ed JEAN ZIMMERMAN models bermudas and blouse from the House of Walsh.

Michael Row Your Boat Ashore . . . There's A Leak In It!

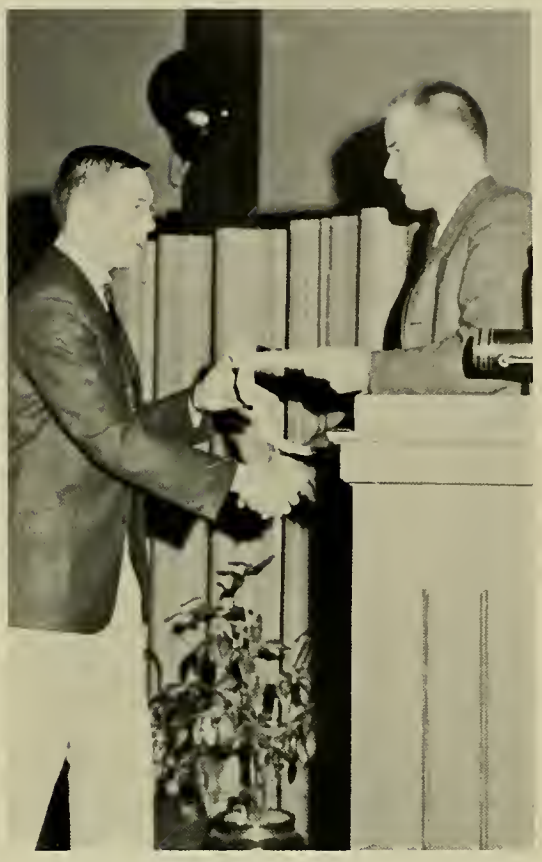

THE CLIMAX TO A GREAT WINTER CARNIVAL was the Jazz Concert on Sunday afternoon. The popular recording group, The Highwaymen, sang and played before a capacity audience in the Curry Hicks Cage. These five honor students from Wesleyan University specialize in folk music, and they also play a variety of unusual instruments. Highlighting the show were some of their hit recordings such as "Michael," "Cotton Fields" and "Gypsy Rover."

TUNING UP IN THE DRESSING ROOM, just before show time, the Highwaymen display their variety of instruments. In the foreground is a little known "zither."

FIRST PLACE FOR FRATERNITIES, went to Alpha Sig, with their Chinese Pagoda.

SKIP OAKES PRESIDENT OF THE CLASS OF '63, presented awards to the winners of the snow sculptures at intermission during the Fashion Show.

Continental Sculptures Prove Huge Success

Arts Festival Presents "Africa Unbound"

AFRICA UNBOUND" was the theme of this year's Fine Arts Festival presented by Mortarboard, senior women's honor society. The weekend began with a panel discussion on African thought and culture. Besides a superb performance put on by the Modern Dance Club, there was also on display a collection of African masks and handicrafts. Closing out the weekend was the performance by the famed African Dini-zulu dancers on Sunday afternoon.

A COUPLE LOOKS OVER some African jewelry. In the background is an African funeral mask.

MASK IN THE CENTER is from the Balshako tribe of the Congo and Angolia—called Mwana Pwo which means "young girl." It is used by young males when initiated into secret male societies.

ANOTHER VIEW OF THE MASK shown above. In front of it is a magical statue of the Bateke tribe of the Congo. It symbolizes the ancestor's spirit.

BOBBY HANNA APPEARS a bit nervous as she goes through dressing room preparations for the ensuing performance. "Let's see, is my exam tomorrow at seven or at eight?"

Modern Dance Performance—Nothing Short of Perfection

THE DANCERS give one of their abstract interpretations. The performance held on Friday evening in Bowker Auditorium was an exciting contribution to the theme of the weekend, "Africa Unbound." These performances by the Modern Dance Club have approached professional caliber and responsive audience soon became aware of it.

"LEGS IN THE AIR"—Another form of interpretation to show that the Hawaiians do not have a monopoly on speaking with the hands.

THE RHYTHM FOR THE DANCERS was provided by this male band playing a variety of drums.

DINIZULU DANCERS

THE CLIMAX TO THIS YEAR'S Fine Arts Festival featuring "Africa Unbound" was the dance performance on Sunday afternoon. The famed Dinizulu Dancers of South Africa gave a very interesting and memorable performance. The beating of native drums and ritualistic dances always find a way of capturing the audience.

THE DANCERS PERFORMED a series of tribal dances for different occasions.

IT LOOKS LIKE the "Twist" has even reached Africa.

MR. SCHWARTZ HITS A CHORD as part of the demonstration on chance music. In the background is Charles Wittenberg, noted composer from New York. On the right is John Maggs, director of the University Dance Band.

Ever Heard Of Antiphonal Music?

EXPERIMENTAL MUSIC WAS THE THEME of a presentation held in the Commonwealth Room last February. Featuring the demonstration were composer Charles Wittenberg of New York City and Elliott Schwartz of our music department. Three types of music were demonstrated: antiphonal, chance and electronic. The antiphonal music consisted of instruments placed at various parts of the room and played in unison, with special music written for this arrangement. Chance music, the essence of true jazz, was made of improvisations where the artist plays what comes into his head and which if played a second time would not sound exactly the same. The last type, electronic music, consisted of experiments with music electronically reproduced such as with radio amplifiers.

THE EXPRESSIONS ON THESE FACES were indicative of the audience's interest. The evening's experiments with music brought forth many novel and fascinating ideas about music.

WORKMEN PLUG AWAY as the new Student Union nears completion in the winter of 1957. Shortly after it was opened for use everyone thought that there seemed to be a lot of extra room. Oh, did times change in five short years!

The Student Union Celebrates Its Fifth Anniversary

THE STUDENT UNION—WHAT would we do without it? It's been quite a while now since students took their coffee breaks in the old "C" store, located where Machmer now stands. As the enrollment went over the 3,000 mark, it just became impossible to fit everyone into that little place. Now that we have the Union our worries are over—for a while, anyway.

TWO STUDENTS take a glance at a painting in one of the many typical art shows held in the Commonwealth Room of the Union.

THE QUIET FACADE of the Union is deceiving as the change of classes will turn the scene into Grand Central Station in a few short minutes.

A GROUP OF PARACHUTE JUMPERS last spring presented plenty of excitement as crowds gathered on the green beside the Union to watch them do their stuff.

THE ANNUAL PIE-EATING CONTEST held in the Hatch each spring is always good for a few laughs. Although the contest is primarily for students, these youngsters somehow got into the act—JUST LOVE those blueberries!

THE ADMINISTRATION LOOKS OUT ON A SEA OF BEANIES, as they address the new class for the first time at the freshmen convocation. Dressed in shirt-sleeves, bermudas, and awe-struck expressions, the yearlings get their first dose of UMass lectures. Everyone seems to be listening intently, but no one seems to be taking notes.

Buckle Down Winsocki—And You Too Freshman

UNDER THE CRITICAL EYES of the members of the senate, the candidates for freshmen class officers state their platforms. Each candidate was given a chance to introduce himself and his ideas before his new classmates.

THESE FRESHMEN SEEM TO HAVE THE RIGHT IDEA. Going to college is a business nowadays, so why not open a little shop on the side? The work is fun, but the customer appears to be a little nervous about the result.

LESTER NEALE, A UMASS JUNIOR, this past year received a $3200 grant for study at the Sorbonne as a result of his short story "Sometimes at Night" which previously obtained an award from Atlantic Monthly. The grant was awarded by the Homer Gage Foundation in conjunction with the Guggenheim Foundation. As part of his program of study in France this summer Neale will teach two courses in English.

ARTHUR WINER, SENIOR ART MAJOR, poses with two of his works which were on display at the Jones Library in Amherst during March as part of his one-man show. The sculpture, titled "A Dancer" is made of welded steel, and was done in April 1961. The painting, "untitled," is oil on wood. Altogether he had on display fifteen paintings, two water colors, two drawings, and four sculptures.

Meet Bill Deminoff And Co.,

The University's Nerve Center

MOST OF THE STUDENTS ON CAMPUS TAKE IT somewhat for granted when their picture appears in their hometown paper along with any write-up of their activities here at school. Taking care of these items is only a small segment of a day's work in the News Office. The News Office might just as easily be called our public relations department. Student and faculty accomplishments, major events, and inquiries by radio and newspapermen must all be covered or met in a FACTUAL manner. On behalf of the rest of the student body, the staff of the 1962 Index would like to make an appreciative nod to the News Office personnel for their efforts—and headaches.

FOREIGN STUDENTS SHOWN at the International Weekend Dance. Many colorful and clever native dances highlighted the evening.

PERTINENT DISCUSSIONS, art exhibits, foreign dancers, a jazz concert—all helped to make the 1962 International Weekend, starting March 16, a huge success.

The keynote address on Friday was given by Dr. Benjamin Schwartz of Harvard on the Foreign and Domestic Policy of Communist China while the rest of the weekend was principally devoted to Communism in the Far East.

ANNA ORTIZ de MONTELLANO gives a performance of Mexican dancing at intermission of the International Weekend dance. Miss de Montellano is a student at Smith College.

TONY RAVOSA and his group gave a relaxing concert Sunday afternoon in the Ballroom. The group, which plays to many pledge formals and other local engagements, is probably the most popular musical choice around. Strangely enough, Tony is actually a lawyer from Springfield who started his group as a diversion. Quite a successful diversion!

SWING YOUR PARTNER . . . hey, buddy, . . . no twists allowed.

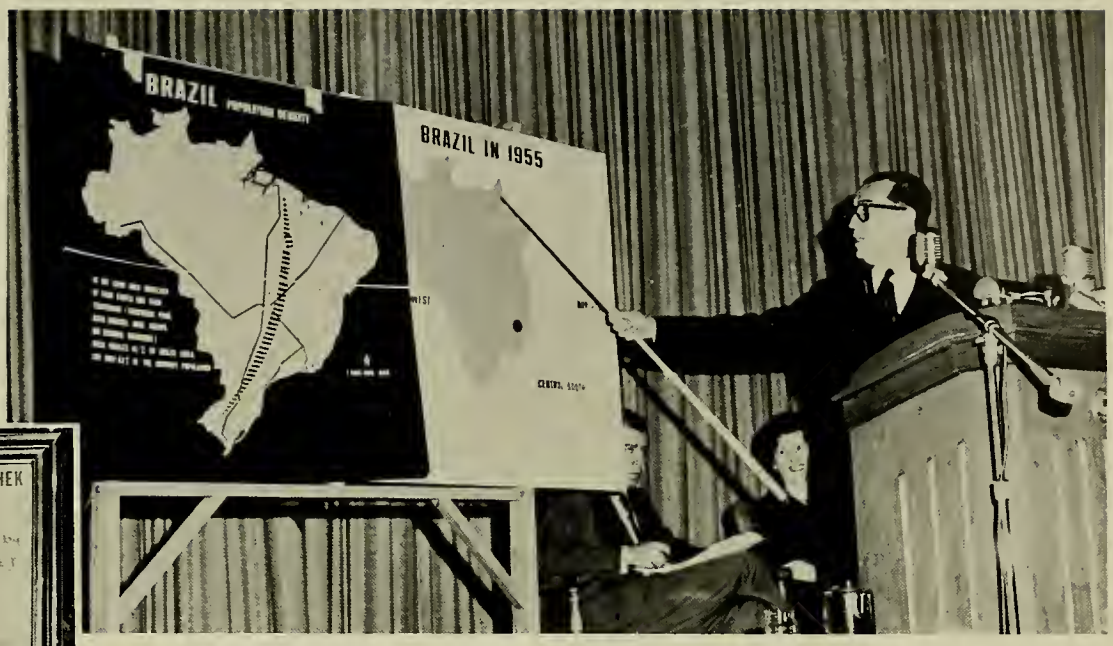

THE EXHIBITIONS ranged from Israeli dances by the Brooklyn College Folk Dance Club to the folk dances of The Durham Reelers of the University of New Hampshire and the square dances of the Umass "HEYMAKERS."

MR. KUBITSCHEK LECTURES to the audience on the present problems of Brazil and their significance in the spotlight of world affairs.

Ex-Brazilian Pres. Kubitschek Warns Of Latin Communist Threat

"THE PRESENT IS THE TIME to revive the faith needed to sustain democracy." These were the words of former Brazilian President Juscilino Kubitshek in an address to a capacity audience on March 8th.

Calling for consolidation of the "freedom and unity of the American family," he warned of the dangers which might arise in Latin American countries in the event of revolutions similar to that of Cuba, and the subsequent Communist control.

ANY VISITING DIGNITARY must always face the barrage of questions from the many newspeople who are looking for a story.

P.S. We did not win the game.

1958- Remember those beanies?

FRESHMEN JANE LEWIS AND HARRIET CUTLER seem to be getting instructions from Archie Babian and Bob Means, also members of the Class of '62.

WHEN WE CAME AS FRESHMEN they said to look at every other classmate because they probably would not be around when we graduated. We found this to be ever so true. The men were soon separated from the boys.

COMMENCEMENT 1958—In three months the Class of 1962 will hit town.

BOB BOULAIS looks like the happy bartender at one of Phi Sig's well known parties. Note the bottle of "7-up."

HARRIET CUTLER, '62 was crowned Honorary Colonel at the 1959 Military Ball. There isn't much doubt as to how she feels about the situation.

Being A Sophomore Wasn't So Bad.

THE SECOND YEAR at college is always the big year. Students are adjusted and have seriously set up a plan for flunking out or getting on the Dean's list. The class of '62 started the year with a cloud of prohibition over their heads. All of the backyard stills were locked up and all fraternity bartenders had to start collecting unemployment compensation.

THAT SAME MILITARY BALL provided a few chuckles as a student from another school posed as a duke and had a ball being introduced to all the dignitaries. The following days produced a few red faces.

CONTROVERSY, CONTROVERSY" was the highlight of our junior year. With the 2.0. issue leading the way, the editorial pages of the Collegian were kept burning. The defeat of Harvard's highly touted football team and the subsequent success and departure of Chuck Studley added more fuel.

MIKE SALEM '62 DOESN'T SEEM to be bothered in the least by that Playmate of the Month on his knee. The scene is one of the many skits put on by the fraternities in the fall of '60 to show off their dramatic talent . . . and OH DID THEY!

MEMORIAL HALL—Home of the Alumni Office.

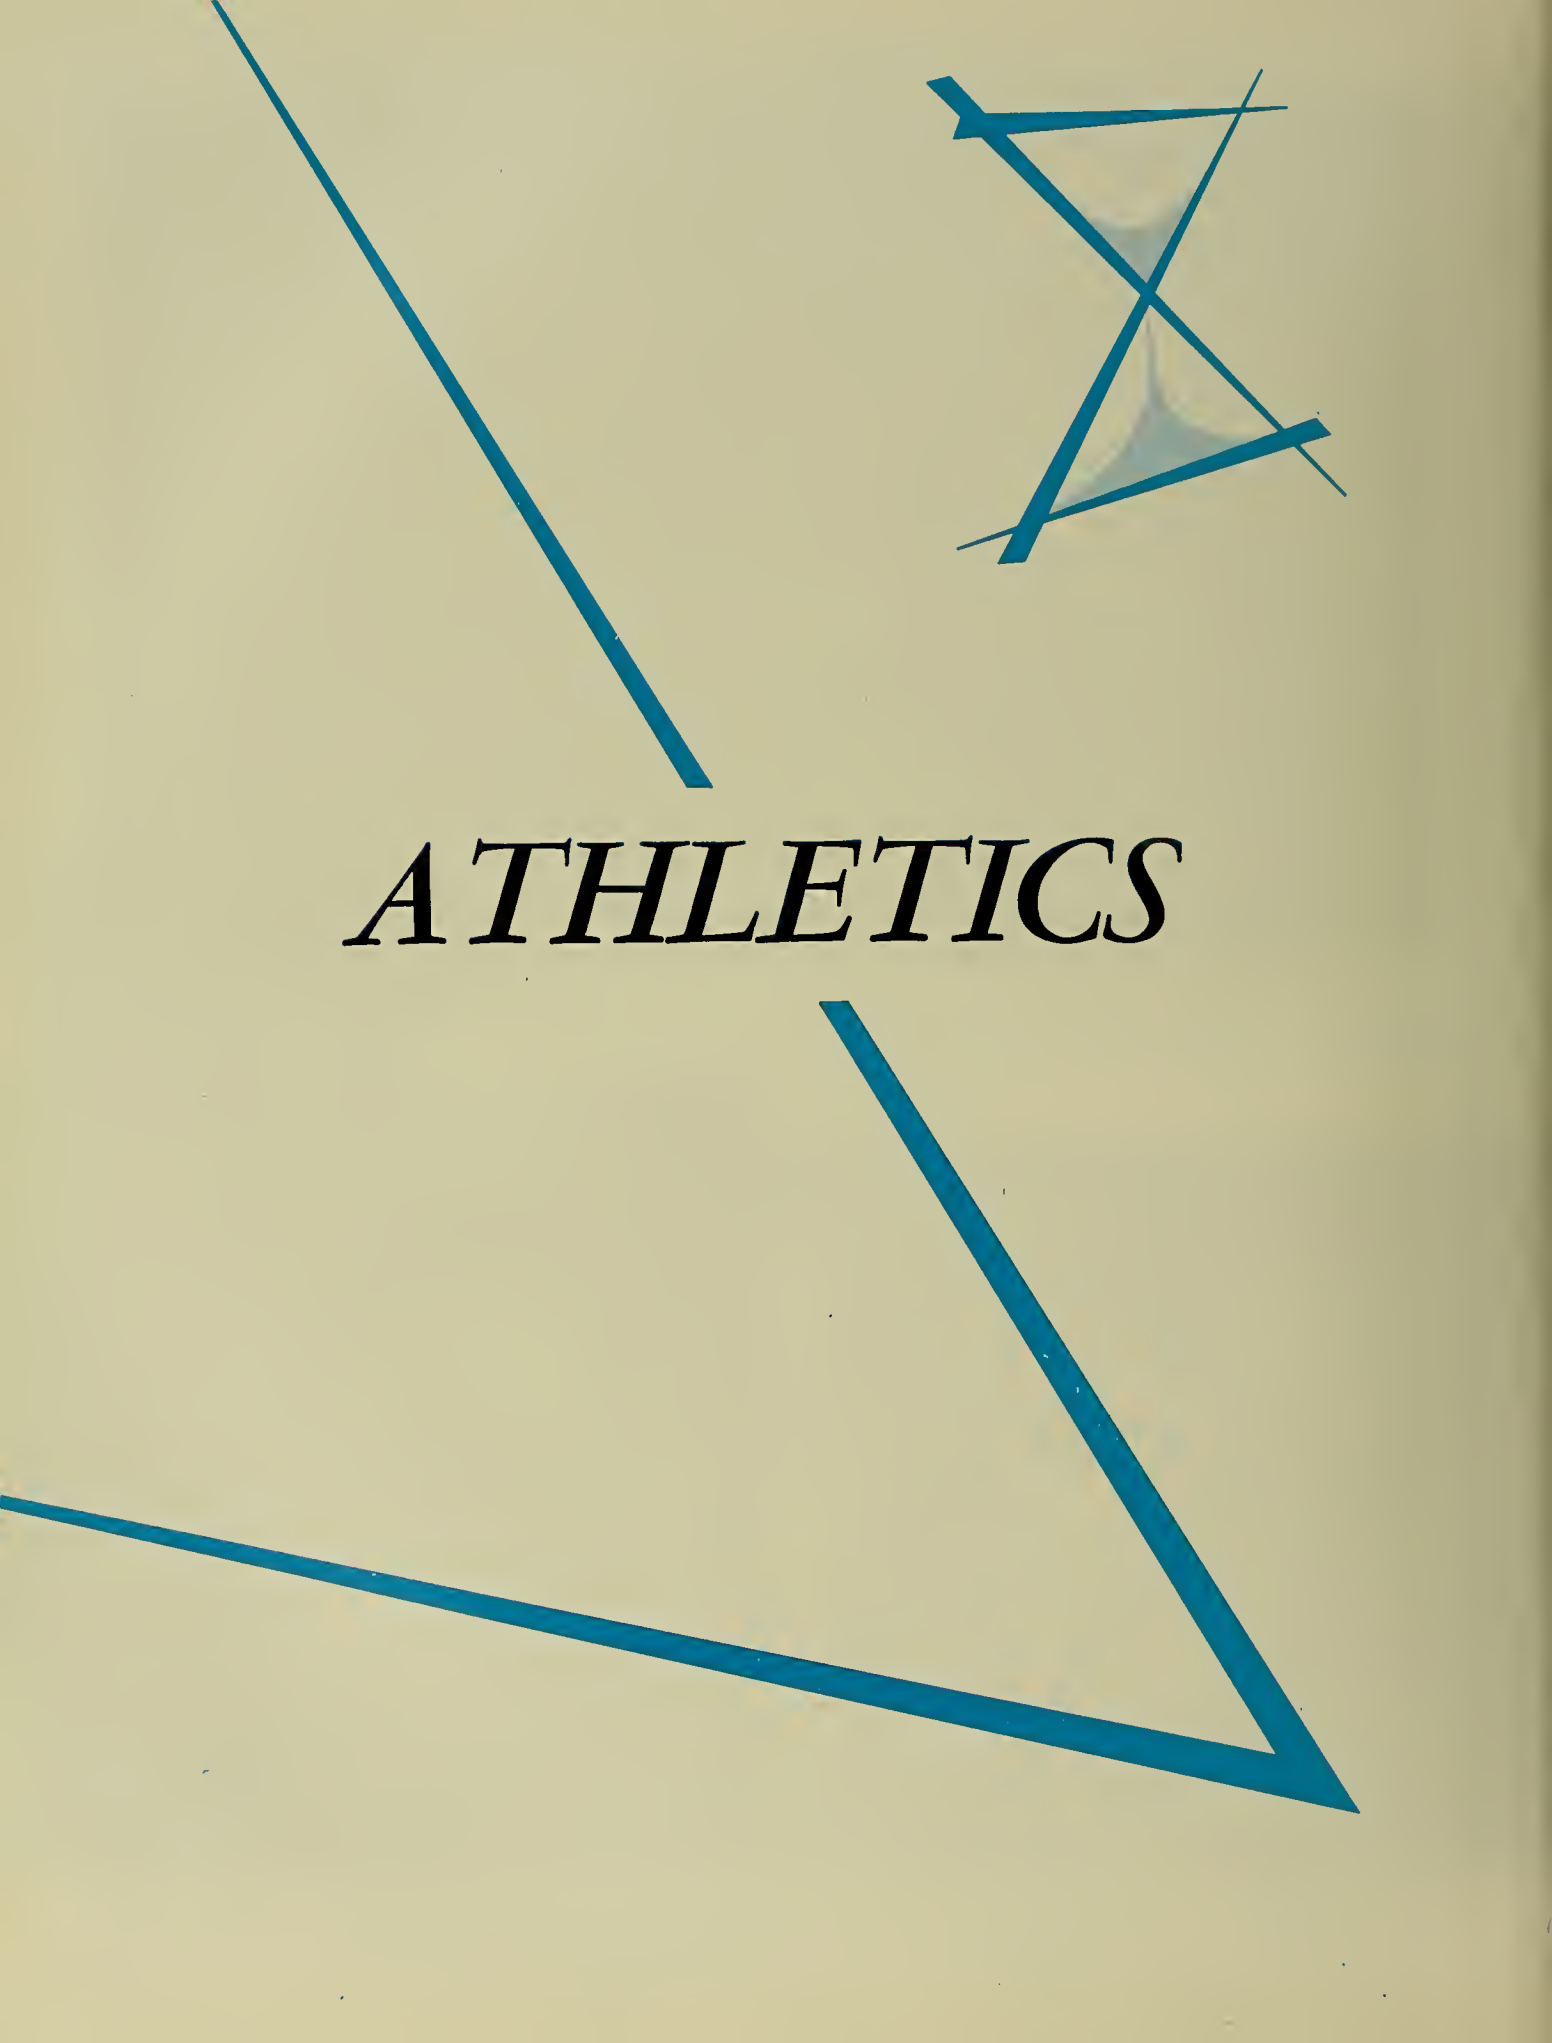

What? Seniors Already.

IT'S 1962 AT LAST and everyone is looking forward to marriage, jobs, Uncle Sam and the departure from hour exams, finals, curfews, PROHIBITION, etc., etc. It's been a long hard grind but it all looks like a flash now that it is all over. We have seen and experienced more than enough to find a permanent place in our memories. Among the highlights were: two new football coaches, a new basketball coach, a new president, provost, and dean of students, not to mention the many new buildings—Bartlett, Morrill et al. We've laughed—we've cried. We've been at the heights of jubilation and at other times the world has been against us.

IN SUMMARY, WE'VE HAD ONE HECK OF A TIME.

IT'S PIZZA TIME AGAIN as we look at a group of happy smiling faces. This page IS FOR THE SENIORS. How did those JUNIORS sneak in there?

ATHLETICS

35

ONCE AGAIN, as in the last two previous seasons, the Redmen began their 1961 season under a new head coach, Vic Fusia. With such a shifting of systems, it is remarkable that the Redmen have once again had a winning season and have been hot competitors for the Yankee Conference "beanpot."

Delayed a week because of a flu epidemic, the season began on September 30. Sparked by Freddy Lewis and Sam Lussier in a second-half 21-12 with Bamberry completing all three conversions.

On the following week, the Redmen faced their toughest opponent of the season and played their finest game while losing to Villanova 33-13.

Next, our team was invited to the University of Connecticut to help them celebrate homecoming. This celebration turned into the first U. Mass. victory in five years. John McCormick and Sam Lussier were the principals in the 31-13 slam, along with John Bamberry and his 30 yard field goal and conversions.

Then, it was our turn to play homecoming host to the University of Rhode Island. Kezer and Lewis were offensive standouts while Bob Foote earned E.C.A.C. honors for his defensive play. As the Redmen blanked Rhode Island 25-0 before the "Old Grads," Northeastern University became the next Redmen victim by a score of 26-7, with Freddy Lewis playing his best game of the season.

On November 4, the Redmen played host to Boston University and were overpowered 21-7. Ken Palm and Ed Forbush were the two bright aspects of the day.

The Crusaders handed the Fusiamen a very humiliating defeat to the tune of 44-7. Aided by several U. Mass. injuries, Holy Cross completely overran the field with the only U. Mass. destruction going to the Precissionettes.

With the struggle for the "beanpot" drawing to a close, the team succeeded in overcoming the Wildcats of New Hampshire with a single score by Ed Forbush and a Bamberry field-goal.

Orono, Maine became the final resting place for Umie hopes as the Redmen bowed 10-7 in a hard fought battle for the conference title. The tables were reversed as our team was in turn defeated by a field-goal with the lone score embodied in a McCormick to Kezar pass and a Bamberry conversion.

The fine spirit which carried the University team to its 5-4 season is a tribute to the squad and to Vic Fusia. With many experienced athletes returning we are looking forward to another winning season next year, and the acquisition of the Yankee Conference Championship.

TAKING OVER from "Chuck" Studly who coached the Yankee Conference Bean Pot Champs, facing the roughest schedule that the Redmen teams or fans had ever seen, Vic Fusia had his work cut out for him.

What Coach Fusia has done with the Redmen is obvious. A winning season, despite serious injuries to the team and the lack of depth which plagued the squad throughout the season, was the final outcome. After performing better than anyone thought the team would do against Villanova, the Redmen went on to drub Connecticut, which hadn't been done by a U. Mass. squad since 1954.

Even more important, Coach Fusia is vitally concerned with the character and scholarship of his athletes and places football in a subordinate position to them. With this kind of combination in a coach it becomes evident that Coach Fusia is the strength behind the team.

JOHN McCORMICK, THE REDMEN'S TRIPLE THREAT quarterbacked and co-captained this year's fine team. His great passing arm hurls both long and short passes with amazing accuracy. Mac, this year, attempted 107 passes; in two years he completed 134 for 1860 yards and 17 touchdowns. Coach Fusia before the U. Conn. game said, "John has the finest arm of any quarterback I have ever coached."

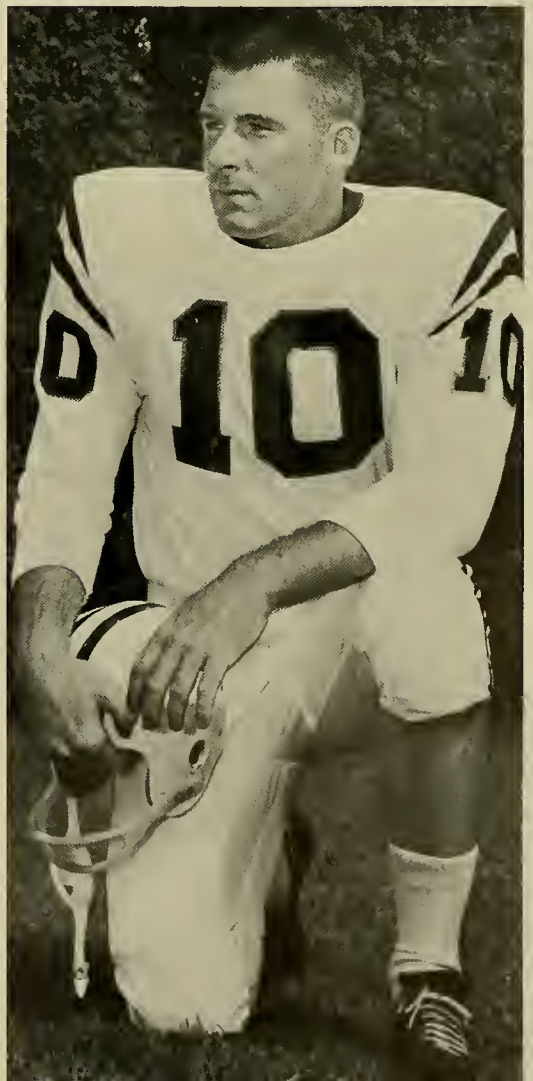

This year John tried his toe at punting. His success can be measured by a 38.9 average for 27 tries totalling 1078 yards. Playing every game, and with an injured foot in the last three, John has led the team to a winning season through its toughest schedule.

B.U.'S CAPTAIN PERREAULT makes a futile attempt to block Bamberry's neatly placed point after touchdown. Extra point and field goal attempts would not be possible if the defenders were not held back by a strong line. Working together, Bamberry and the line have made many crucial extra points and field goals.

Bamberry gets real "kick" out of football

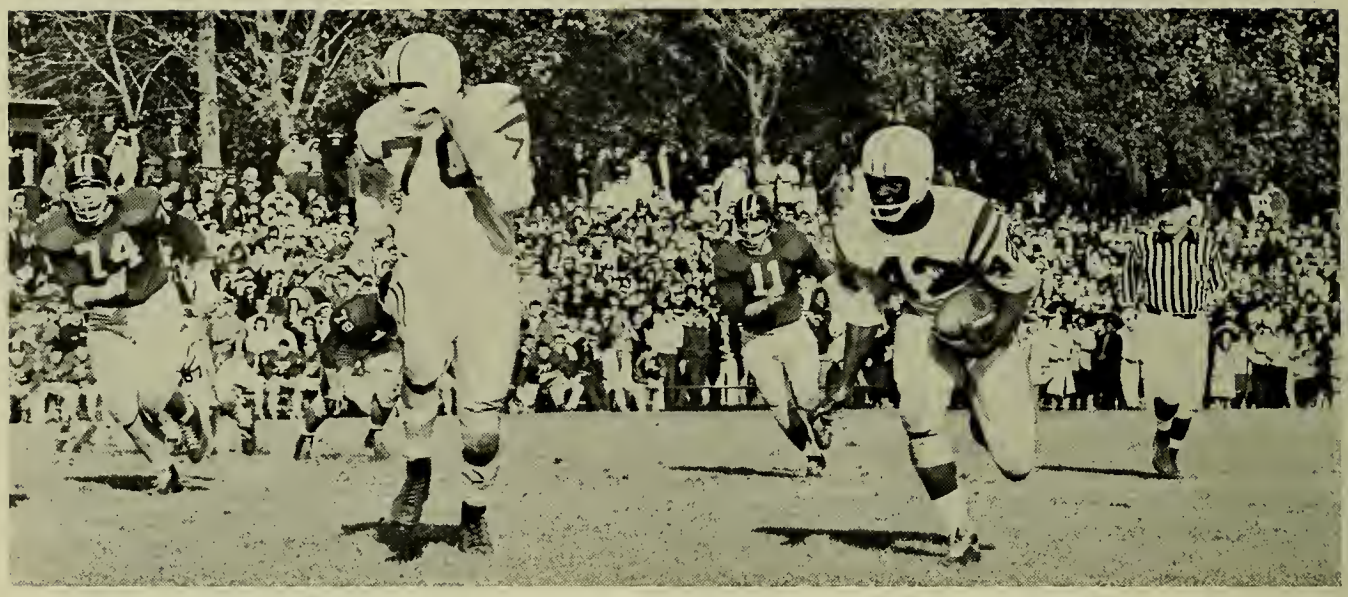

JOHN'S WIFE EILEEN helping her placekicking specialist husband. For her efforts she was awarded a varsity letter and was feted at a banquet.

JOHN BAMBERRY may be the most distinguished football player at Umass. Not only did his wife receive a varsity letter for her efforts in furthering her husband's career, but he also bounced back after an injury to give the team a reliable field goal and extra point kicker.

A familiar (53), John ran onto the field many times to kick that crucial field goal. He successfully kicked field goals of 30, 28, and 27 yards in the UConn and New Hampshire games respectively. This year, "Bumps" made 13 out of 16 points through the uprights. At Umass he has a total of 36 completions out of 40 attempts.

The talent John developed will be missed for it took many long months of patience and determination to acquire this skill which is a necessity for any winning football team.

SHOWING HIS SPEED AND AGILITY, Foote is able to pull out from the line and lead the way for sophomore speedster Freddy Lewis against Northeastern.

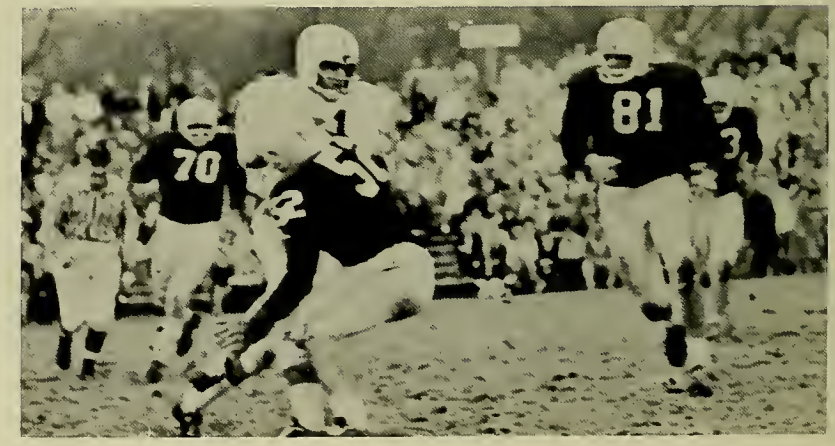

Foote wins berth on YAN CON

All Stars for bruising lineplay

BOB FOOTE, a 6'2" 214 lb. senior from Northampton, was twice named ECAC player-of-the-week and at the end of the season was chosen for the first team of the Yankee Conference All Stars. Bob has had a great year playing tackle for Umass. and he will be sorely missed next year. Perhaps the one game that will stick in Bob's memory is the Homecoming game against Rhode Island. During the last quarter he recovered a URI fumble in the air and dashed the six yards into the end zone for a score to cap the 25-0 victory.

JUST AS EFFECTIVE ON DEFENSE, Foote (70) moves up to assist Matt Collins in bringing down a B.U. ball carrier. Also pictured is "Harry" Harrington moving in for the kill.

LONE SCORE in game came as Lussier vaults over the line behind fine blocking by Slick and Forbush.

BULLING HIS WAY through the line, Ken Palm meets stout B. U. secondary with Dell'Olio jumping on. Lacking depth, the Redmen squad held on doggedly until the final minutes of the game when the Terriers scored two quick T.D's.

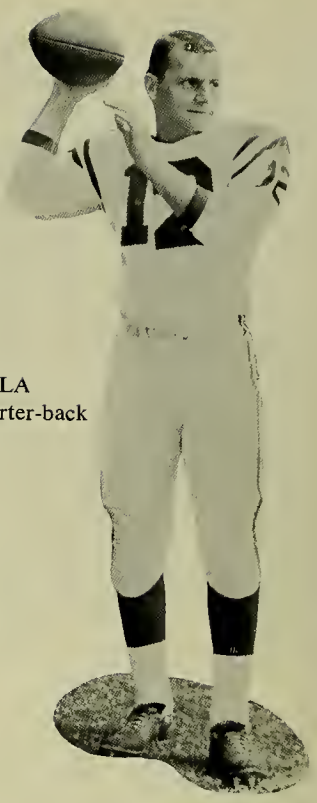

REDMEN LINEMEN Warren (33), Graham (71), close in on BU's Jack Farland, who later scored on a 49-yard run.

When The Game Is On.

Eger sparks scrappy defense

DICK EGER'S quickness and agility has made him a mainstay in the U. Mass. line. This fiery 190 pounder played both on offense and defense. He was sorely missed when he was injured in the Holy Cross game as the Crusader's backfield used this opportunity to blitz his hole. Many good teams such as Villanova and B.U. praised the hitting ability and toughness of the Redmen line keyed up by Dick Eger.

ALMOST COMPLETELY OBSCURED from view, Eger dumps Rhode Island linebacker, opening the way for Sam Lussier. Crisp blocking and hard running like this provided U. Mass with a 25-0 homecoming victory.

ALLOWING HIS FORWARD WALL a brief rest during the Northeastern game, Coach Schmitt talks over the strategy with his men. Included with Dick Eger (65), are Slick (67), Scarpa (75), Harrington (81), Sikes (50), and Palm (32).

SAM LUSSIER SLOWS down ball carrier enabling John Kozaka to make the tackle. Kozaka was voted E.C.A.C. lineman of the week for his efforts in this game.

Redmen play best game against mighty Villanova

CO-CAPTAIN McCORMICK AND VIN CAPUTO meet with officials for toss of coin. Billy Joe, 230 lb. Villanova fullback looks on.

AT THE HANDS of the mighty Wildcats from Villanova, the fighting Redmen suffered their first loss by a score of 33-13. Villanova was the most powerful team the Redmen faced all year, outweighing U. Mass by fifteen pounds per man. The University Eleven was in the game right up until the last five minutes, when, were it not for a holding penalty which nullified a touchdown pass from McCormick to Lussier, the score would have been 26-20. However, on the next play, Villanova plucked one of McCormick's aerial bombs to set up their final tally. This crushed all hopes of a U. Mass victory. Against their heavier opponents, the rugged Redmen line played a very aggressive game. John Kozaka, a junior, was chosen on the weekly E.C.A.C. for his plays against the mighty Pennsylvanians.

PAUL MAJESKI, strong-armed end, brings down Wildcat pro-candidate Billy Joe. Sam Slick (67) and Paul Graham (71) move up to assist.

Nucleus for "62" squad

CO-CAPTAIN ELECT for '62 season has been an offensive and defensive standout for 2 years. At end he was the prime target for McCormick's passes, as he was 2nd high scorer for the '61 team.

ALONG WITH MAJESKI, KIRBY will Co-captain next year's team. A versatile lineman, he played both at guard and center for the '61 team.

STARTING GUARD in his Sophomore year, John was also rugged as a linebacker on defense. Against Villanova, Kozaka was voted best lineman of the game. A rugged ball player he would make a welcomed addition to any team.

TOP GROUND GAINER for the Redmen, fleet Sam Lussier was named Yan-Con All Star this year. At right half-back Lussier has averaged 53 yards a carry.

A 100 YARD and 220 dash man in track makes Loren the fastest man on the team. Although relatively light he plays a good defensive game.

STARRING IN HIS Sophomore year, Kezar scored 6 touchdowns in the last two games. This year his speed and elusiveness will make him a top Bickfield candidate.

FILLING IN FOR FULLBACK for the injured Ken Palm, Art Perdigao earned a starting berth on the U. Mass. eleven.

SWITCHED FROM FULLBACK to center in his Sophomor year, Matt Collins has played excellent ball. His aggressiveness has made him a stalwart in the touch T. Mass line.

JIM HICKMAN (44) led by Ken Palm (32), made a good gain of this play, but the U. Mass. backs couldn't match the Crusader's backs, McCarthy, Hennessy, and Wheeler. This trio totalled over 500 yards as McCarthy scored 3 touchdowns behind crisp blocking of Hennessy and Wheeler.

BEFORE THE GAME and during half-time, this impressive horse and rider entertained the large U. Mass. following.

FORBUSH SNARES A PASS against New Hampshire and scoots over for the only score. Lewis, (42), is in the background.

ED FORBUSH is a large (6′ 1″ 212 lb.) end who has done an excellent job for U. Mass. this year. He has anchored the Redmen line with heads up and determined play. Perhaps his best game this year was the U. Conn. game where he made several important catches. His excellent play against Holy Cross should not go unnoticed where he threw passing star McCarthy for losses on several occasions.

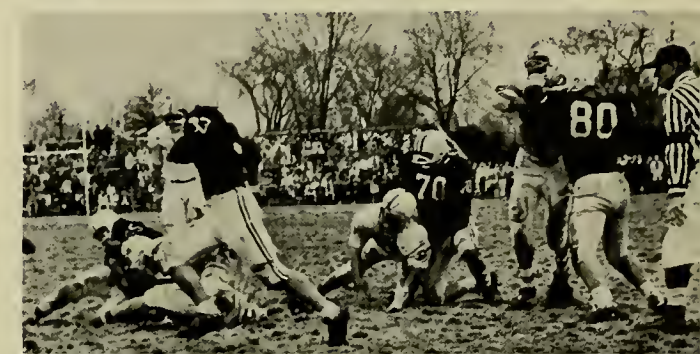

Forbush noted for rugged play

HOLY CROSS . . .

Not the Whole Story

The University's bid for recognition among the major colleges received a rude setback against the all-powerful Crusaders of Holy Cross when U. Mass suffered a defeat of 44-7. A thirty-three point spread doesn't make much for excitement, but in this case, neither does it command over-criticism of the Redmen. The U. Mass Eleven played without the services of end, Paul Majeski, and lost the bulk of their defensive stars in Matt Collins, Loren Flagg, and Dick Eger in the early minutes of the game. The Crusaders couldn't be contained as Holy Cross made gaping holes in the weak defensive spots left by the injured ball players, and manned by the young, inexperienced Redmen. Were it not for their porous defense, the Redmen would have made it an exciting game, for they moved the ball against the Crusaders whenever they had it. The Redmen gained over 150 yards and 13 first downs —only five less than Holy Cross.

PROVING HE'S NO LIGHT TOUCH, big Ed has it out with equally large Boston University end, as play starts around opposite end. Carrying the ball is Dick Warren. Foote (70), looks on.

Dave Harrington Yan-Con All Star Selection

DAVE HARRINGTON (helmet off) cheers his teammates as he takes a rest during the action of the Northeastern game.

A 3 YEAR VETERAN, rugged 6 ft., 190 lbs., Dave Harrington has been a defensive standout for this year's Redmen squad. Holding down the defensive end slot, Dave made ECAC Honorable Mention for his efforts in the fast moving Holy Cross game. Harrington has consistently played good ball. Rising to the occasion many times, Dave came through with the important play. At the end of this season Dave Harrington was named to the YAN-CON ALL STARS.

HIGHLIGHTING THIS MEET was Sophomore BOB BROUILLET who won the two mile run in 9:28., breaking a school record of 9:30 set in 1956. DAVE BALCH finished well ahead of the field with a 4:23.9 effort in the mile. A previous school mark of 12′6″ in the pole vault was broken by JIM LUMLEY at 12′7″. JIM BRADLEY tied the UMASS record in the low hurdles at 5.3. KEN O'BRIEN in the 100, LOREN FLAGG in the dash, and JOHN HARRINGTON in the high hurdles went on to win their events indoors. Outdoors DICK WARD threw the 35-lb. weight 50′9″ and strongman GEORGE GIDDINGS won the shotput with a 43′9″ heave. The final score was the REDMEN 98½, NEW HAMPSHIRE 14½.

Booters meet rugged schedule

THE U. MASS BOOTERS having a better-than-average season this year, finished their slate with a 3-1-6 record. Under the leadership of Captain David Amundsen, the team edged its first challenger, Coast Guard, with the score 2-1. Improving their striking power, the Redmen gained their second win by toppling the University of Rhode Island 4-0. A home match against Amherst College was the hardest fought game of the season. Although the Lord Jeffs handed U. Mass a 2-0 loss, the Briggs men carried out a superb offensive attack which threatened the Amherst net throughout the game.

The marked improvement of this year's competition over last year's winless season, can be attributed to the added experience of the ballclub. Veteran players Captain Amundsen, Pawluk, and Heanue, handled the ball skillfully, and were a firm threat against opponent teams. Lettermen Repeta, Packard, Graves, and Hoavisto were the backbone of the defense, while Argentinis, Astaldi, Leete, Chenery, and Aksionczyk provided the scoring punch. The highest scorer was Dick Leete who didn't miss a single penalty kick. Peter Baker filled the management position above par, and helped to boost the morale of the Redmen. All those players who did not receive a letter also deserve earned applause, for their efforts helped to make the varsity a more efficient ball club.

Coach Briggs looks forward to still a better and more experienced soccer team next season, for only three senior players, Amundsen, Pawluk, and Heanue, will be lost through graduation. Fourteen lettermen and a few promising freshmen are expected to return.

Bernard Sparks Triumph Over BU;

Scores 17 Points In 9 Minutes

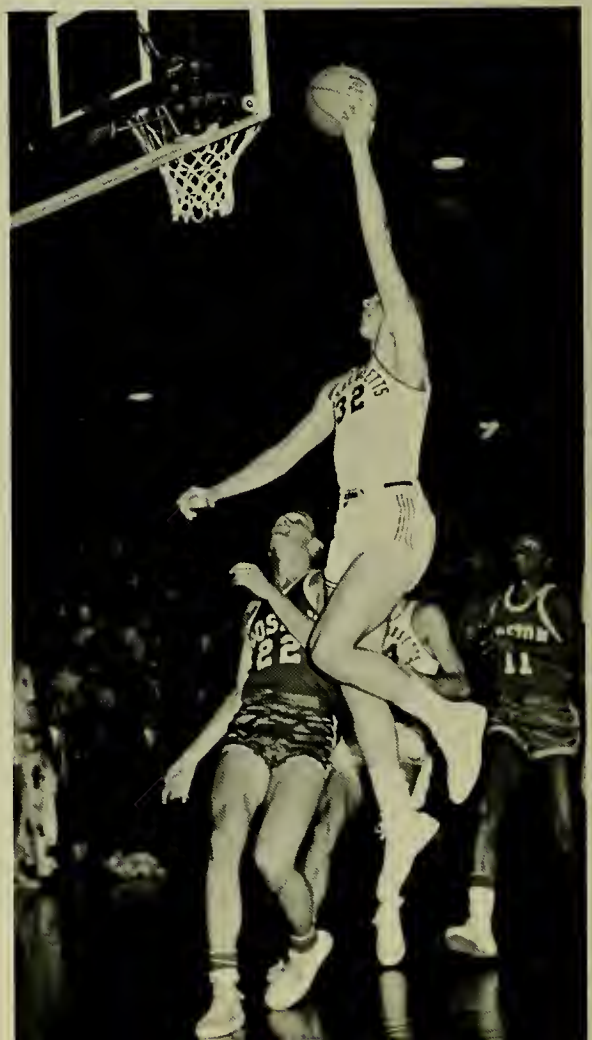

HERO'S RECOGNITION is given Pete Bernard as he is carried from the floor by the exuberant crowd.

EXCITING LAST MINUTE WIN opens Redmen hoop season. Curry Hicks rocked as the Zunicmen, led by Sophomore Pete Bernard, turned in a remarkable clutch performance. Starting slowly the Redmen led 25-17 in the first period, but the Terriers closed the gap and went ahead 40-36 at halftime. At the beginning of the second half, the Redmen faulted, and the Terriers opened a 14-pt. breach, 64-50. Coach Zunic, trying different combinations, sent Bernard into the game. He quickly scored on Leslie's pass. Playing ramble-scramble ball, Bernard stole passes, dove for out of bounds balls, and fought with opponents to bring U. Mass. within two points of B.U. A hook by Black, and successive scores by LaPier and Bernard put the game on ice for U. Mass. Final score—75-71.

Upset Win Over Bowdoin Highlights Hockey Season

MOST REWARDING WIN of the season occurred when the Redmen downed mighty Bowdoin 2-1 in a great upset victory. Bowdoin, always a strong team, is a perennial eastern Hockey power slated this year to play in the ECAC finals. The win was a team effort, but much of the credit should go to goalie Frank Cesario who made 46 saves, 6 more than his per/game average. Losses to West Point and Williams were not without consolation. At West Point the Redmen fought the Cadets to a 2-1 standstill at the end of the second period. In the third frame 2 quick goals killed UMass hopes, and the strong Army team won 4-1. The third period of the Williams tilt found 2 Warriors in the penalty box. Capitalizing on this, the Williams club sent the puck flying for 3 easy goals.

Playing without the benefit of home ice, the hockey team must provide their own transportation to Orr Rink at Amherst. From this group of determined men, a hard working Hockey Team has developed that deserves much credit. Jim Ellingwood and Bob Glew co-captain this spirited club. Of Ellingwood Coach Kosikowski remarked that Ellingwood was "one of the finest skaters in the East." Others who played outstanding Hockey are: Bob Glew, Gerry Clinton, Dick Phillips, Charlie Glew and, of course, goalie Frank Cesario.

Whoever Heard Of Annie Oakley?

THIS WAS PERHAPS the most successful and colorful season which the U. Mass. Varsity Rifle Team has recently experienced. The final record of 7-9 showed great improvement over previous team performances. Highlighting the season were the Coast Guard Academy and West Point invitational matches. Never before has the U. Mass. squad participated in these top ranking and highly competitive matches.

Under the adept guidance of coach Capt. Jack Lesley, team Capt. Ed Moses directed the shooters in all their undertakings. The team will definitely feel the loss of Ed Moses due to his graduation. Top gun for the season was Soph. Hal Butterworth, followed by Frank Fluet, Capt. Ed Moses, Jim Vermeiren, Mark R. Natanpsky, and Doug Wells. Also firing on the team but not receiving sweaters were Larry M. Thibert, Richard Lavine, and Richard Granger.

COACH WILLIAM FOOTRICK

COACH BILL FOOTRICK'S harriers won the YanCon Cross Country title for the second straight year at Orono, Maine. Edging their host Maine by 4, the Redmen scored 42 as Rhode Island scored 79, U Conn 90, Vermont 108 and New Hampshire 110. Coach Footrick's winning ways began in his first year as Head Coach of Track when his varsity was Connecticut Valley Champs while his freshmen won the New England crown. Today Coach Footrick can be found on the track field with a whistle strung around his neck and a stop watch in his hand exhorting and encouraging his teams on to more victorys.

UMass Grapplers Play For Keeps; Not Like On TV

FINALLY EXHAUSTED, the opponent offers no resistance as Tom Best, 147 lb., flips him.

ADVANCED WRESTLING PROGRAMS from competing schools have hurt the UMass. wrestlers this year. Suffering a defeat at the hands of W.P.I. 20-16 the Redmen showed promise as Tom Best, Al Brouillet, Gerry Burnham, and Al Isreal defeated their opponents. They might have won, but the Redmen don't have a heavy-weight wrestler and had to forfeit the match. Co-Capt. Bob Ellis injured his shoulder, and is a doubtful starter for the rest of the season. Coach John Douglas feels that a definite improvement has been made over last year's Redmen wrestling quality and spectator participation.

THE STEPHEN DAVIS Memorial Award is presented each year to the fraternity, dormitory or independent organization that gains the most points by participating successfully in the Intramural program throughout the year. This is determined by the point accumulation formula.

PURPOSE . . . INTRAMURAL competition is designed especially to fulfill the desire for athletic participation among the large group of students who because of skill level, or inclination do not wish to compete on a varsity level. The intramural program is a supplement to, and a continuation of the general physical education program. Provision is made for the inclusion of all members of the University community in the programming of events. This broad pattern of organized recreational activities is provided to attract the leisure time pursuits of the student body.

INTERFRATERNITY COUNCIL

THE INTERFRATERNITY COUNCIL is the central governing body of all campus social fraternities. Through its three branches: the Fraternity Presidents Assembly, Council of Committees, and Judiciary, it seeks to promote better cooperation and communication between member fraternities and to insure the continued improvement and success of the fraternity system.

The Fraternity Presidents Assembly is composed of all house presidents, the five officers (executive committee) and a faculty advisor, and is presided over by the president of IFC. This is the central governing body of the fraternity system and bears the responsibility for the proper functioning of the system as a whole.

The Council of Committees is composed of two representatives from each of the campus social fraternities (a junior and a sophomore) and is presided over by the administrative vice president with the assistance of the secretary and the faculty advisor. This body is the IFC workhorse and from it come the ideas and manpower which make possible the various IFC programs.

The Judiciary is composed of six fraternity presidents and is presided over by the executive vice president. The main function of Judiciary is to assist the IFC in the enforcement of its constitution and by-laws.

FRATERNITY PRESIDENTS—S. Shusterman, R. Greene, J. Lerner, A. Tobias, R. Lees, P. DuPont, R. Legrand, P. Sibley, F. Daher, C. Scarpa, K. Judge, T. Antonucci, J. Faucette, A. Leblanc, A. Morris, J. Callio, H. Lane.

HOMECOMING Weekend Float Parade.

I.F.C.

INTERFRATERNITY COOPERATION reached a high point during the fall of 1961 when the IFC sponsored the formation of Zeta Nu fraternity. In this experiment, the first of its kind in the country, an IFC Rush Committee, composed of two members from each house, used the facilities of the Student Union to carry on an intensive rushing program. In the few short months since its inception Zeta Nu has become an integral part of campus life and a thriving example of the productivity of interfraternity endeavor.

The IFC also sponsors and regulates competition among the several fraternities for the annual IFC trophy. In this chain of events ranging from floats and snow sculptures through scholarship and sports, points are given for excellence in each area and the house with the greatest total number of points is awarded the trophy.

Fraternities are also active in campus and community charitable events. They play an important role in such organizations as the Campus Chest and Blood Drive and their traditional Christmas parties for underprivileged children have long helped to brighten the holiday season for many local youngsters.

Through all these activities the IFC seeks to realize its dedication to serving the needs of both its member fraternities and the campus community.

PANHELLENIC COUNCIL

PANHELLENIC COUNCIL'S PURPOSE IS TO PROMOTE understanding and cooperation and to provide an opportunity for an exchange of ideas among the sororities in all aspects of campus life. Its membership consists of two representatives from each of the eight sororities on campus.

Throughout the year many social, philanthropic, and educational events are sponsored by Panhellenic. Among some of our established traditions are: the Mum Sale at the Homecoming football game, Intersorority Sing and Dramatization Competition, Freshman Tea at which time the Panhellenic Handbooks are distributed to all freshmen, and, of course, Formal Freshmen Rush. This year Panhel introduced a Freshman Women's Sorority Convocation in order to acquaint the freshmen informally with the sororities. The convocation, consisting of talks and group singing, was a great success and will be continued in the future.

Always striving for improvement and new ideas, Panhel annually holds a workshop in the spring of the year at which time many worthwhile ideas and suggestions are discussed and recommended for the following year.

BUT, GEE WHIZ . . . It tastes good!

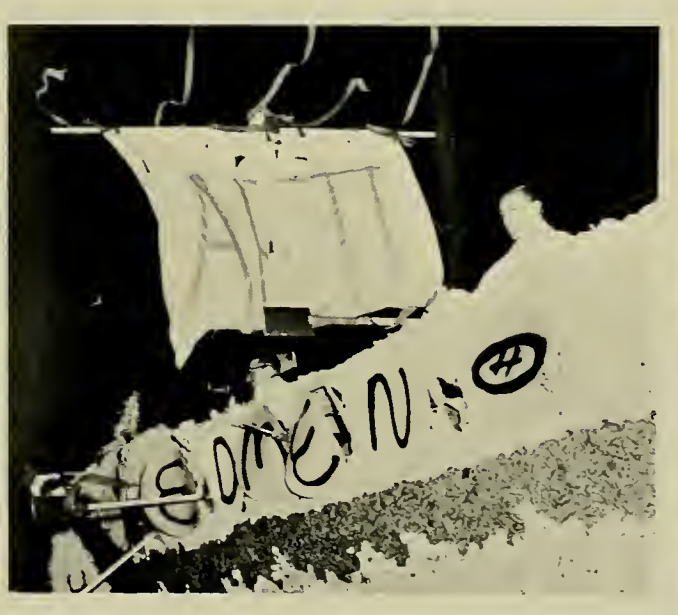

ALPHA EPSILON PI WAS FOUNDED as a social club, called UEO; it was renamed Delta Phi Alpha in 1920, officially recognized by the administration in 1921 and admitted into the Inter-Fraternity Council in the same year. AEPi this year welcomed the brothers back to a newly renovated house. During the summer, extensive remodeling was undertaken, now providing the brotherhood with more modern facilities.

AEPi started the year well by placing third in the float parade during Homecoming Weekend. Social successes included traditional theme parties such as the annual Military Brawl, a Christmas Party for underprivileged children, and the University weekends.

Living up to its high ideals, AEPi once again placed well in IFC Scholarship Competition. As usual, AEPi was well represented on campus with brothers on the staffs of the Collegian and Index and with others on Adelphia, Maroon Key, and Student Union Committees. All this, in addition to an excellent freshman class, made 1961-1962 a memorable year for Alpha Epsilon Pi.

"THE BROTHERS of Alpha Gam are proud of their new addition."

IN 1917 THE LOCAL CHAPTER Of Beta Kappa Phi, located at 406 North Pleasant Street on the University of Massachusetts campus, entered into Alpha Gamma Rho as its Mu Chapter. In 1961-62, 406 North Pleasant doubled its size with the completion of a new wing.

In the past year, the Alpha Gamms have taken part in a variety of campus activities and varsity sports. Some of the offices and activities include president of the Interfraternity Council, vice president of the sophomore class, student senators, Revelers, Maroon Keys, members of Men's Judiciary, Class Executive Councils and many others. The list of varsity sports ranges from baseball, skiing and lacrosse to soccer, golf and wrestling.

Alpha Gamma Rho is also active socially: it hasn't missed a Saturday night party during either of the past two semesters and has augmented the social calendar with frequent exchanges and other events. With a growing brotherhood and a strong bond of fraternalism, AGR is looking back on a memorable year and is looking forward to a most promising one.

"AND THE NON-AGGIE award of the year goes to J. Rogers, presented by John Faucette, Secretary of AΓP."

GAMMA CHAPTER, ONE OF the numerous Alpha Sigma chapters in colleges throughout the country, is the oldest national fraternity on campus. The original charter was transferred from Amherst College to the University in 1913. Since being reactivated in 1955, the "Old Gal" has grown significantly in both membership and prestige. Plans are being made for a new house, with all the brothers looking forward to that groundbreaking day.

The Alpha Sigs have been in numerous campus activities this past semester. These activities include being members on the Sophomore and Junior Executive Councils and the Student Senate. The brothers, while finding time for socializing with exchange suppers and Saturday night twist parties, also recognize the importance of high scholarship. A social highpoint of the brothers' year came when their Winter Carnival Weekend was successfully ended with the Alpha Sigma snow sculpture of a Siamese pagoda winning first place. The social program of the house reached its climax in the spring with the traditional Black and White Formal.

THE GAMMA DELTA CHAPTER, one of the one hundred thirty-five Kappa Sigma chapters, was established on this campus in 1904. At present, this University of Massachusetts chapter has sixty-one members, forty of whom live in the house. The first chapter house was on North Pleasant Street near Dalton's Diner; in 1939, the present building was financed, designed and built by Kappa Sigs, actives and alumni.

Although the brothers are primarily athletes, their records show that they have not participated in athletics exclusively. Last year they were first scholastically on campus. It was the first time that a fraternity had surpassed the University average. Kappa Sigmas finished third out of fourteen fraternities in Interfraternity Council competition last year. They finished first in intramurals.

Last year Kappa Sigma was represented on eleven varsity squads; also captains of three sports were Kappa Sigmas. But besides these, the fraternity also has many participants in various other campus activities. The social highlights of the year come with the Christmas party and annual Embassy Ball.

ONCE AGAIN THE BROTHERS of Lambda Chi Alpha engaged in a busy year of campus life. Many Saturday night parties highlighted the fall social calendar, which was climaxed by the fall formal on November 18th. The Winter Carnival Weekend brought another successful attempt in the form of a snow sculpture which represented the international theme and paid homage to our sister, Hokkaido University. This took second prize in the competition with fourteen other fraternities.

Physically, the interior of the house has donned a new appearance, for it was repainted between semesters and partially remodeled.

This spring the Gamma Zeta chapter of Lambda Chi Alpha of the University was host to the New England Area Conclave in conjunction with its fiftieth anniversary. The brothers looked forward to entertaining many national officers and representatives from the twelve other Lambda Chi chapters in New England. The past year was a most successful one for the brothers of Lambda Chi Alpha.

THE NU ZETA CHAPTER OF PHI MU DELTA fraternity, founded locally as Zeta Zeta Zeta, became a chapter of the national Phi Mu Delta fraternity in 1953. The house on Sunset Avenue is proud of its active brotherhood. Within the past year, it has been able to claim as its members the Chief Justice of Men's Judiciary, two members of Tau Beta Pi, a member of Eta Kappa Nu and workers on the Campus Chest committee.

Sportswise, the fraternity has not lagged behind, for it has brothers on six varsity teams, including the coming year's wrestling captain. The sports represented are football, baseball, wrestling, track, lacrosse, and swimming. Besides varsity sports, the house has emerged successful from intramural competition.

The social calendar for the year included their weekly Saturday night parties, but also highlighted by the annual Pledge Formal and their annual Christmas Party. Of course, no year could be successfully completed without the fun of the spring Pago-Pago party. All was accomplished and another year drew to a successful close.

ALPHA MU CHAPTER of Phi Sigma Delta is a young, growing, non-sectarian fraternity—the newest nationally affiliated fraternity on campus. It traces its lineage back to what was once known as the "Triangle Club" in 1951. It was a colony of Phi Sigma Delta in 1955 and became a national fraternity in 1957. After a few years the brotherhood obtained a house, and one year later, in 1960, installed a new kitchen.

Phi Sigma Delta is active in all major fields of IFC competition—from skits, snow sculptures, to football. The brothers claim among their greatest assets their housemother, Miss Dorothy Pyle, an accomplished writer, and their marvelous cook, Mrs. Mary Szawlowski. The fraternity has continued to grow and has gained many valuable friends in the faculty, the administration, and throughout the campus.

ALPHA CHAPTER OF PHI SIGMA KAPPA fraternity was founded in 1873 in the old North College building with all the traditions of campus leaders prevalent then, as now, among the brotherhood. Forty years later the Phi Sigs built their present house at the edge of the campus; the ivy-covered structure now occupies its key position near the center of campus activities.

Some of the interests of Phi Sig brothers are shown in their record of campus activities. This year the fraternity boasted members of Men's Judiciary, Senate, Campus Chest and Winter Carnival committees, as well as two members, one the president, of the Maroon Keys. The house has brothers representing its athletic prowess on the football, golf and lacrosse teams.

The social program of the house reaches its climax in the spring with the annual Spring Formal and—of course—Mass Grass.

"THE FRATERNITY MAN"

I SAY THERE old chap . . . carry a green book bag and you're okay.

Q.T.V., THE OLDEST FRATERNITY on this campus, is the only local Latin Letter Fraternity in the country, being founded on this campus on May 12, 1869. Despite several offers to join the ranks of national Greek letter fraternities, QTV has chosen to remain local to retain its unique and total control over its own policies and affairs. The brethren moved into their present residence at 358 North Pleasant Street in 1917. Constant improvement and renovation of the building has resulted in the present structure. However, due to the growing needs of the fraternity a plan has been initiated under the direction of both the alumni and active members that will raise funds for a new, all-brick structure on the present site. The building is expected to be completed for the QTV Centennial in 1969.

This year the brothers have filled positions in many campus activities, ranging from the ranks of class officers and the various honorary societies to the captain of the varsity baseball team. They have placed first in IFC scholarship, as well as being strong competitors in other areas of IFC competition. The brothers of QTV feel justified in their pride for the tradition of their long-established brotherhood. The fraternity has become a heritage on the very campus where it was founded so many years ago.

Leading the field in athletic participation, the House is proud to see four brothers in positions as co-captains of the football team for the season past and that to come. Some seventeen brothers contributed to the fine showing the football team made this past fall. The house is also proud of its brothers who hold important positions in various campus organizations including IFC, the Senate, and the FMA Board of Directors. Who's Who found several members from SAE this year, and men participating on all major athletic teams. The house extends its wishes for future success to the two brothers who have signed with the Boston Red Sox and the Minnesota Vikings.

After a season of parties and exchange suppers, the year was climaxed with the annual pledge formal and initiation banquet. All the SAE's are very happy with their new housemother, Mrs. Eva Chatel. She has become a friend of everyone and a true part of the fraternity.

THIS YEAR MARKED the sixtieth anniversary of Sigma Phi Epsilon national fraternity, and its fiftieth anniversary on this campus. The seventh oldest of the present fraternities at the University, Massachusetts Alpha was founded on April 27, 1912. In these past fifty years Sig Ep has contributed outstanding leaders to the campus and to the nation as well. Following the dormant years of the Second World War and reorganization in 1948, Sig Ep quickly regained its position on campus, winning the IFC trophy several times during the past decade. Two years ago, with the help of loyal alumni, the fraternity was able to build a new addition of traditional brick and modern glass.

In the past year, Sig Ep remained a leader in the IFC Competition, as it has for many years. Sig Eps held membership in numerous campus organizations this year . . . from Maroon Key and Men's Judiciary to Christian Association and the Senate. For fifty years the bonds of brotherhood have been maintained in Sigma Phi Epsilon, and this same spirit will prevail behind the Red Door in the many years to come.

THIS PAST YEAR HAS SEEN the realization of a TEP dream. Working in close cooperation with their alumni and national officers, the Teppers have formulated definite plans for the construction of a new house. One wing will be started in April, and the old chapter house will be torn down after graduation, with a second wing being erected on its site. The house will be ready to accomodate the brotherhood by the beginning of the fall term in September.

This year the brothers hope to improve on their second place IFC finish of last year. With much of the competition still to be held, the brothers feel that they will be successful if they can defend their previous victories in the Sing, in softball and bowling. TEP is well represented in most all campus activities. They are actively affiliated in such organizations as the Maroon Key, Revelers, Adelphia and the Collegian, and head important committees for Winter Carnival Weekend and Greek Week. With goals firmly established, TEP proceeds confidently toward a future that promises to be both productive and exciting.

TAU KAPPA EPSILON, THE THIRD YOUNGEST fraternity at the University, has risen in ten short years to a place of prominence among campus fraternities. TKE is not limited by any restrictions as to the race, creed, or color of its members, and the interests, activities, and talents of the brothers are both varied and diverse.

The past year has been a demanding and a rewarding one for the Tekes. Their football team was once again a strong contender for the league championship, but was regrettably edged into second place after losing a final game near the end of the season. The brothers captured fourth place in both the Homecoming Float Parade and in the IFC Skits. Their social season has included weekly exchange suppers with the sororities, and Saturday night parties, both at the house and off campus. At the beginning of the second semester TKE sponsored a most successful dance, Registration Rock, in the Student Union Ballroom.

The TKE brothers are especially happy with their new officers who have organized the members in renovating the interior of the house this year. They are also pleased with our fine pledge class, obtained through a newly formulated rushing system.

THETA CHI FRATERNITY WAS FOUNDED at Norwich University in 1856, with Theta Chapter, formerly Theta Phi, being initiated in 1911. The Chapter's present structure on North Pleasant Street, was built in 1935 with a new addition completed in 1955.

Theta Chi, celebrating its 50th Anniversary on campus, started off the year by winning the Homecoming Float Award and IFC touch-football competition. This is just one of the areas of campus life where Theta Chi is represented; they have brothers in almost every varsity sport with captains of football, wrestling and basketball. Many members of extra-curricular activities, including Adelphia, Maroon Keys, Student Senate and Men's Judiciary, show Theta Chi's interest in their school as well as their fraternity.

ALPHA CHI OMEGA

Delta Mu Chapter 1961

ALPHA CHI OMEGA, FOUNDED NATIONALLY in 1885, has been a member of the Massachusetts family of Greeks for only one short year. This first year as a national has, however, been a busy and exciting one.

Occupying a house of our own for the first time, the sisters have enjoyed all the fun of sorority living, including midnight snacks, bridge playing, and just plain sitting around the living-room and enjoying themselves.

The more formal social events have also included exchange suppers, a Christmas party with the brothers of Alpha Gamma Rho, pledge formal at Wiggins and, of course, snow sculpture and float parade.

Second semester was highlighted, as always, by the beginning of rush season and the addition of a fine group of freshmen to the ranks of Alpha Chi. Thus, one successful year draws to a close, as the sisters look forward to many more happy moments as members of the Massachusetts family of Greeks.

CHI OMEGA, THE SECOND LARGEST National Sorority here, was founded at the University of Arkansas in 1895. The local chapter was established in 1941 and is located at 315 Lincoln Avenue. With an enthusiastic spirit, some hard work, and active participation the Chi O's were among the top three to place in the Homecoming Float Parade, Inter-Sorority Sing, and W.A.A. Swimming Meets. Other house activities included teas, exchange suppers, a Christmas party for underprivileged children, a cooperative civics project with the Amherst Women's Club, and several dinners with faculty and administrative guests. Pledge Formal, held at the Wycoff Country Club, was, as usual, a big success.

The House had the pleasure of sending its officers to Firesides, a convention for local chapters, held at the Statler Hotel in Boston. Various Chi O's have received mention in Who's Who, won top scholarship awards, and three girls have returned after a semester or two of study and travel in New Mexico, South America, and Europe. In all, the Chi O's have enjoyed an active, profitable, and fun-filled year.

LAST FALL THE THETAS returned to campus with the usual mixed sentiments concerning summer's end and school's beginning. Those who were "in the know" established twisting lessons for their less fortunate sisters—and some even attempted the intricate dance floor patterns of the "hully-gully," the "slop," and others. By Homecoming Weekend, with dance steps learned, the sisters combined to produce the float, "Paintin' a Fusia Victory," under Connie Creamer's fine direction. They were all pleased that the efforts were not futile and the float became a first prizewinner! Later in the fall they gathered on the front lawn for the annual slave auction—this year with Julie Atwood and Nancy King as auctioneers, a new twist version was given—you guessed it, some of the slaves were sold as twisters.

By December a few sisters tuned up to take part in the annual Sorority Sing. Thanks to the hard work of Pat Valiton and a few rehearsals, they placed second. The Christmas season began early with the annual Christmas party with AEPi. After the holidays, a more serious air settled over Theta as everyone began "booking it" for finals. However, with the beginning of the new semester, activity again increased with the approach of rushing. By Winter Carnival Weekend, all welcomed the new pledges and began plans for Pledge Formal, held this year at the Sheraton Kimball. Needless to say, all had a good time!

THE KAPPAS RETURNED THIS FALL anticipating another happy and successful year. The sisters welcomed their new housemother, Mrs. Martindale from Syracuse, and prepared to take advantage of the many scholastic, extra-curricular and social opportunities on campus.

Carol Veno and Jean Havey recounted their experiences at National Convention held in Canada. The Kappas enjoyed several interesting dinner guests, including President and Mrs. Lederle and Miss Curtis. Under the able direction of their song chairman, they claimed the first prize plaque from the Intersorority Sing.

The wearers of the key participated in an active social season with teas, exchange suppers and the annual Christmas party with the brothers of Tau Epsilon Pi. After a busy rush period, they pledged freshmen who were presented at the Pledge Formal at the Wycoff Country Club in Holyoke. Altogether, the Kappas have had a most enjoyable year.

ALPHA CHAPTER BEGAN THE YEAR coming back as pledges of the first national non-discriminatory sorority, Lambda Delta Phi. The national was formed in June, 1961, at a convention called by the UMass chapter. The constitution was presented to the respective administrations, and soon cries of "ratification" by the other chapters at the University of Minnesota, Boston University, and the University of Rhode Island were heard throughout the house.

The new national was official. In December, the sisters were invited to the University of Rhode Island chapter for the national initiation and installation. The ideals of friendship, democracy, and non-discrimination upon which the sorority had been founded in 1950 were now firmly established.

Everything was new, and the sisters were delighted to receive their sweatshirts, hats, and finally, in January, their pins. In November, the scholarship tray for the highest sorority average was presented to the Lambda Phi's at the annual Pan-Hellenic Tea. Then, in January, another tea was held to introduce the new national to the campus.

Of course, the girls were kept busy practising for the sorority sing, building a float for the Homecoming Parade, and enjoying the festivities of Winter Carnival. Their first place snow sculpture of "Donkey Serenade" added to the enjoyment of Winter Carnival Weekend. Everyone relaxed at the Lord Jeffrey for the annual formal honoring the new pledges.

FALL, 1961, BROUGHT THE PI PHI'S many new and exciting changes to their house. The porch was torn down and a new study room added in its place. The "back room" became the new entrance and reception hall, and a fresh coat of paint topped off the renovations giving the Pi Phi's a new gray house.

Socially, the sisters have had a busy season sprinkled with such events as exchange suppers, teas, Christmas parties, culminating in the pledge formal on March 10th held at the Coachlight Room of the Northampton Inn.

The girls worked hard all fall preparing for the Inter-Sorority Sing and Declamation held in early December. Sue Lemanis was rewarded for her hard work and received third place in the Declamation. Also rewarding was the conferment of third place given to their snow sculpture on Winter Carnival Weekend.

After a very successful rush season, the excitement of attending spring events at the University, and the long-awaited graduation of the seniors, the Pi Phi's are able to look back on a very happy and fruitful school year.

SIGMA DELTA TAU

Psi Chapter 1945

THE EIGHTEEN YEARS of Psi Chapter of Sigma Delta Tau has been filled with activities of varied natures which have been beneficial to the scholastic, social, and fraternal aspects of the sisterhood. Psi chapter served as hostess for this year's Scholarship Tea for all sorority women. The SDT's were proud and happy to receive second place in the sorority competition in scholastic averages. SDT was also proud of its president, Sandra Segel, who received the annual scholarship award given to the most outstanding and deserving sorority woman. Miss Segel brought honors to her house also in her first prize winning presentation in the Sorority Declamation competition.

A full schedule of exchange suppers with several fraternities and a Christmas party with Theta Chi kept the sisters busy and the year filled with fun and laughter. Several distinguished guests invited to the house during the past year have helped to bring a clearer understanding and sensivity to the role of a sorority woman in an educational and social community. The Torch of Sigma Delta Tau has brought light to several phases of college living, not always evident to those in an unorganized atmosphere.

SIGMA KAPPA, ONE OF THE LARGEST national sororities in the United States, and second largest at UMass, started the year off in the usual tradition of sororities on this campus—with a fire. It was hard to adapt to the new living quarters—the dorms—but first semester flew by and 19 Allen Street was soon ready for occupancy and the Sigmas made it their beautiful new home.

The sisters enjoyed a year of fun and excitement. Exchange suppers and parties, building a float for Homecoming, and a prizewinning snow sculpture for Winter Carni, and participation in the annual Pan-Hel Sing and Declamation caused busy hours for many. Fun was mixed with study, though, and Sigma Kappa placed third among the sororities academically.

After a successful rush season, both pledges and sisters enjoyed the annual Pledge Formal at Wiggins, and later in the spring, Initiation Banquet, both of which culminated an exciting year.

MANAGING EDITOR ANN HUSKA and EDITOR-IN-CHIEF ED RODRIGUEZ.

THERE WAS A TIME when a yearbook was simply a scrapbook: a collection of snapshots and a few humorous anecdotes such as "Silliest Sophomore" etc. Times have changed. It is now the staff's obligation to provide COMPLETE and ACCURATE coverage of all facets of University life—quite a chore. The staff of the 1962 Index has attempted to do this. You will note that we have deviated somewhat from the past in some areas: some things you will like; others will make you shake your head.

WHAT WOULD A YEARBOOK be without pictures? Clicking the shutter, developing the film, and making the prints: it all amounts to a monumental project especially where quality as well as quantity is desired. THE MASSACHUSETTS COLLEGIAN IS the official undergraduate newspaper of the University. It is completely uncensored, in that no member of the faculty or administration reads or passes judgement on any of the contents prior to publication. In addition to the student and faculty circulation, the Collegian has an outside subscription list numbering over 500. Also the paper is sent to all Massachusetts legislators, to the Deans of the other New England Land-Grant Colleges, and is exchanged with over 50 other Universities throughout the country and in three foreign countries.

The Collegian publishes every Monday, Wednesday, and Friday with a staff of 100, and operates with a working budget of over $30,000 obtained through subscriptions, advertising and students senate appropriations. The newspaper is strictly an extra-curricular activity, and no staff member receives either financial reward or course credit for work done. This year, as in the past, the Collegian was awarded an honor rating by the Associated Collegiate Press.

THE AREAS OF INTEREST AND the responsible concern for University activities shown by the members of the Student Senate this year have placed student government in a vital position on campus.

The Senate this year matched funds given by the University to subsidize the first honor students program in the state. It also endorsed the Senate President to appear before the Joint House and Senate Committee on Education on behalf of the Autonomy Bill.

Among the more controversial issues raised, the Student Senate endorsed voluntary ROTC, and sent the resolution to the Faculty Senate.

ADELPHIA IS THE SENIOR MEN'S HONOR SOCIETY. It was founded in 1915 and each spring recognizes those 20 juniors and seniors who have distinguished themselves by their devoted service to the University through outstanding leadership ability, and scholastic achievement. This year, Adelphia performed a major service to the University by initiating, organizing and carrying out the High School Honor Students Day, which will become a regular yearly project for future members. In addition, members have travelled throughout the state speaking at high schools and showing slides of the University.

Also, Adelphia helps organize Legislator's Day, football rallies, dances, Campus Varieties, and freshmen talks. Representatives are on the SUG Board, the University Assembly, Fine Arts Council and the Special Committee on Promising Entrants (SCOPE).

BOB SLESINGER grins broadly as he turns his hat over to a future member of the Keys.

MAROON KEYS

THE MAROON KEY IS a sophomore honorary society composed of twenty-five men, who have displayed outstanding qualities of leadership, scholarship, and good character. They are nominated by the entire freshman class and "tapped" at the Student Leaders Convocation.

The Maroon Key traditionally orients incoming freshmen into University life and assists at rallies, dances, and programs which are designed to strengthen all phases of student life. It also acts as an official host to all visiting athletic teams.

This year, for the first time, the Maroon Key is playing major roles in both the Distinguished Visitors Program and High School Days at UMass. The Key, in co-operation with the Senate Elections Committee, is officiating at all dorm elections.

SCROLLS

SCROLLS IS THE HONORARY service organization which gives recognition to women of leadership and scholarship in the sophomore class. The Scrolls strive to uphold and maintain the standards of high scholarship, cooperation and friendliness on this campus. The group cooperates with the Maroon Key in coordinating activities during freshmen orientation, ushering at various events and sponsoring scholarship-raising projects.

Sophomore girls are selected by the incumbents from a group elected by all freshmen women and are tapped at Student Leaders Convocation. The selection is based on scholarship, leadership, fellowship and an underlying enthusiasm to work to fulfill these standards upholding the prestige of the group.

MARIE MAKINEN turns in astonishment as Bobbie Hanna happily taps her to join the ranks of the new Scrolls.

AS PAUL SIBLEY taps a new Reveler Mike Feldman, the faces of those around him express pleasure, surprise, and even astonishment.

Those Happy Revelers

REVELERS IS AN UPPERCLASS honorary society whose main purpose is to stimulate and encourage freshman interest, spirit, participation, and leadership in campus activities. The Revelers work in conjunction with the Freshman Class Officers to provide freshmen with more recreation and entertainment through Talent Nights and Freshmen Picnics. They assist Adelphia with rallies and float parades; and most significantly Revelers help in presenting Campus Varieties, an original musical written, acted, and produced by University students.

MEMBERS OF JUDICIARY—Barbara Biera, Janice Reimer, Jean Bruen, Diann Coyle, Secretary, Carol Veno, Chief Justice.

Umass Has Its Own Supreme Court Too

THE GENERAL COURT IS made up of members of the student body selected to act in conjunction with the Student Senate. Its primary purpose is to render decisions on any constitutional questions which may arise.

The Court normally functions as two separate bodies, the Men's and Women's Judicial Boards. Each board tries violations of the laws of the University, discusses and weighs all evidence, and gives decisions which will best benefit the offender, the students, and the University.

OUR WMUA RADIOMEN Jim Trelease and Barry Brooks, seem to be expressing mixed emotions about the action on the ball-court. Will he, or won't he, make the shot?

WMUA— The Voice Of The Redmen

YOU'VE ALMOST GOT IT right! Now, try just a little more inflection at the beginning of the sentence. Skull session with Judy Noren and Charlene Prentiss.

WMUA'S SHOES OFF SESSION certainly has a way of putting this young lady in a mellow mood. Why don't you try it? (Wrist watch by Omega).

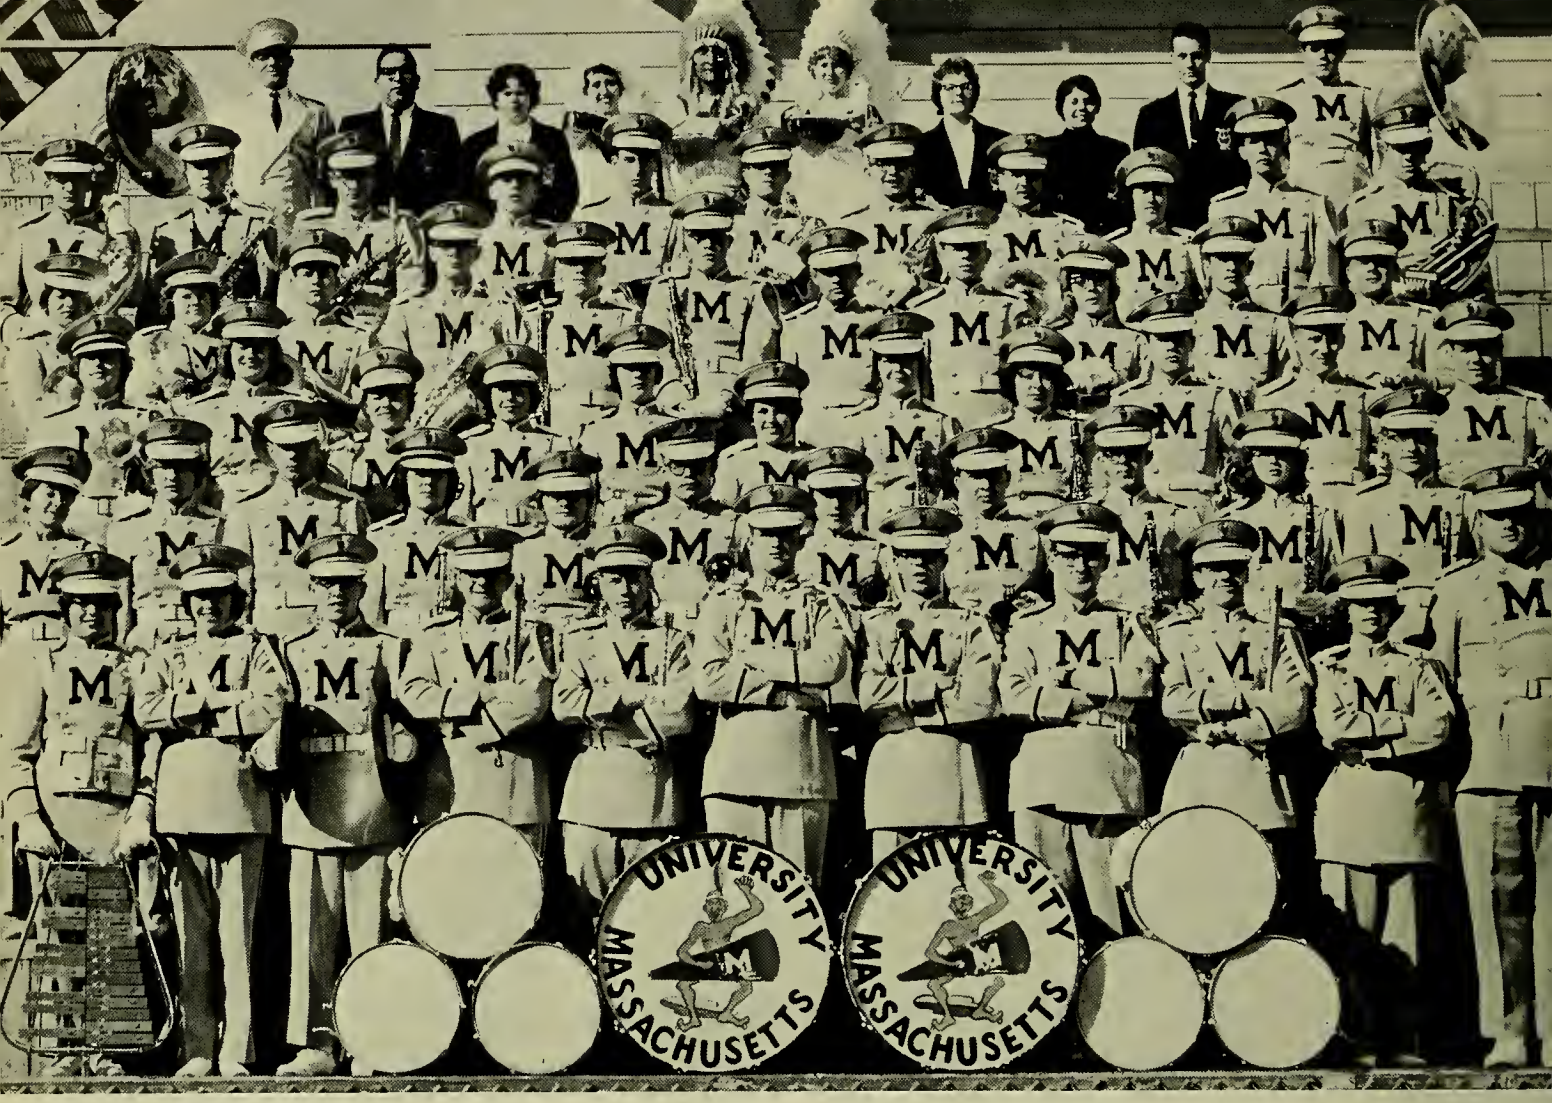

WMUA IS THE UNIVERSITY'S STUDENT supported and student operated, non-commercial radio station located in the Engineering Building. It broadcasts daily during the school year and its membership is open to all students on a competitive basis. The station broadcasts at 91.1 F.M. and may be picked up in all dormitories and the surrounding area. WMUA serves the campus and the community through its programs, and supplies a training and learning center for those students interested in the many aspects of radio broadcasting.

THROUGHOUT THE FINALS period, WMUA is proud to announce that it is presenting 24 hours of interrupted classical music. We honor all requests.

The Redmen Marching Band— A Familiar Halftime Sight

IT'S HALFTIME AGAIN and the Redmen Marching Band is on the field headed by the familiar Redmen Chief. The band, besides playing at home games, also travels to many games with the team to keep the spirits high in the Massachusetts camp. We must not forget their spiritous OOM-PAH-PAHs at the rallies either.

The organization is open to all undergraduates proficient in a musical instrument. The attractive majorettes are chosen competitively each year.

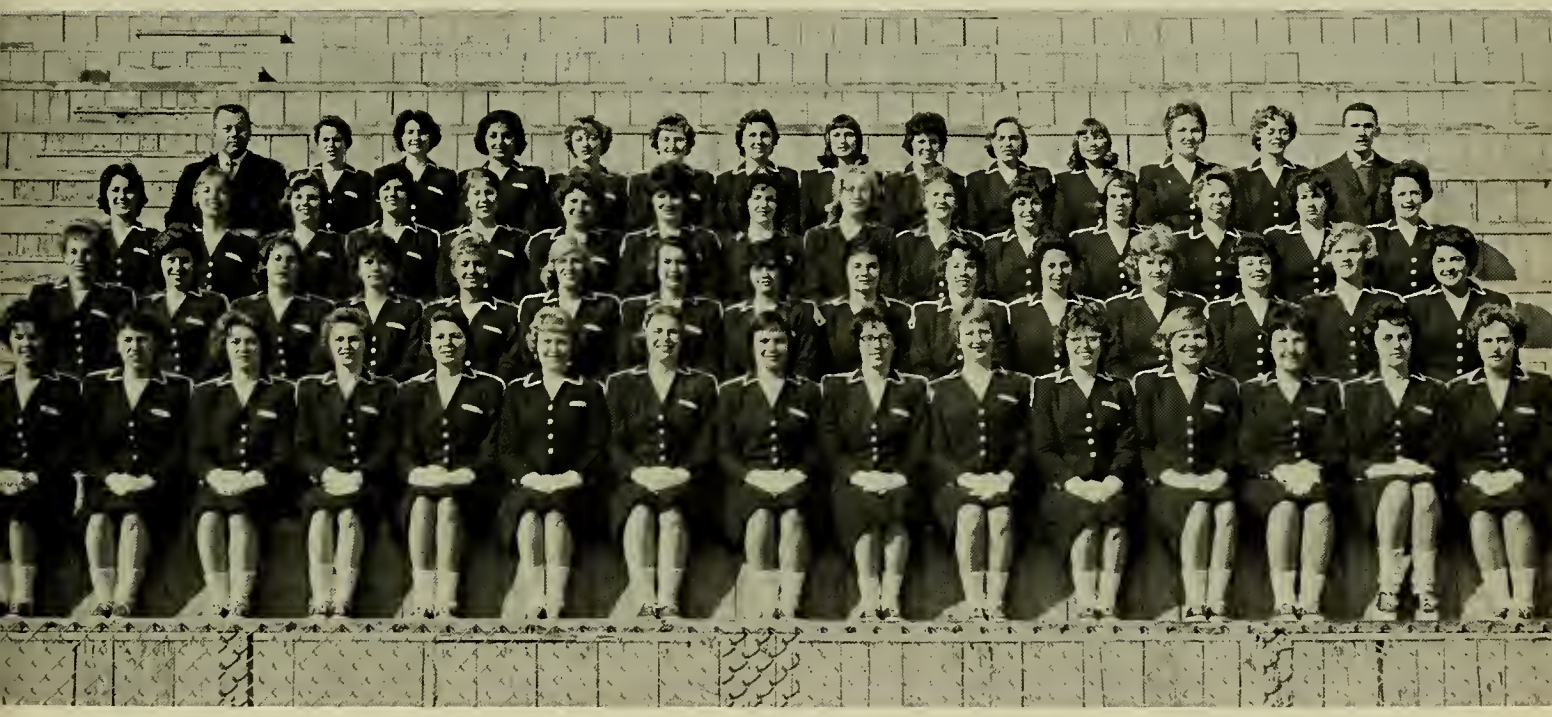

Precisionettes

These Girls Never "Get Out Of Line"

THESE GIRLS NEVER get out of line—literally that is, because PRECISIONettes they are and PRECISION movements are their specialty.

The group is open to all women students on a competitive basis. They display their precision marching and drilling usually at the halftime of football games.

CHEERLEADERS

OUR ENTHUSIASTIC CHEERLEADERS appear at nearly all sports events, parades, and rallies to promote campus spirit.

In addition to their cheering both home and away, these agile undergraduate men and women are becoming well-known for their tumbling. Routines off the baby trampoline, handsprings, shoulder rolls and pyramids can be seen at intervals during games and rallies.

Tryouts are open to all freshmen men and women who are interested in leading and encouraging our teams on to victory.

"I KNOW YOU'RE EXCITED, but next time, please be a little more careful. That's the only left ear that I have!"

THIS IS THE BEST PART of your day—a time to relax in your own pool, and forget all pressing problems. Why don't you try this refreshing treat tonight in your pool?

THE NAIADS IS A GIRL'S swimming precision group open to all University women through annual try-outs. The Naiads present two performances each year in which these talented swimmers execute colorful, synchronized routines to music. The girls are led by President Ruth Henderson and Miss Esther Wallace, advisor.

MEMBERS OF YA-HOO STAFF—T. Wilson, First Triumvir; J. Patten, Second Triumvir; Ena; W. Honey, Third Triumvir.

The Yahoo—A Magazine For Happy Thinkers

THE YA-HOO, a creation of Jonathan Swift, was originally a creature of nasty habits and little regard for the members of the human race. In fact, the Ya-Hoos that Gulliver encountered rather sullied his clothing, if not his soul, from their arboreal perches. The Ya-Hoo of today, however, has somewhat better manners, and a much improved aim. No longer does the Ya-Hoo vilify all and sundry, nor does the Ya-Hoo practice life in the trees. The Ya-Hoo now attacks only those deserving of it, and from a much greater height.

THE UNIVERSITY OF MASSACHUSETTS CHORALE is an organization dedicated to the ideal of excellence in the performance and in the appreciation of fine choral music. It is open to all members of the University community who have an interest and more than average ability in choral singing. It provides an intensified study of choral music as well as opportunities for student conductors, accompanists, and soloists. Every spring the Chorale tours Massachusetts for several days, in addition to presenting several concerts on campus and in surrounding areas.

THE STATESMEN

THE STATESMEN, THE ONLY ALL-MALE singing group on campus, have been feature performers for almost every type of occasion—from teas to Wiggin's "Coach Light" Room to Rockefeller Plaza and NBC-TV, with a repertoire ranging from folk to modern. The group, under the direction of Fran Lovejoy, can tickle anyone's fancy.

Membership is on a competitive basis and is open to all male undergraduates.

THE "MUSIGALS" WERE organized in the spring of 1961 by Jayne Hayden, Alsie Edgerton, and Francis Lovejoy under the guidance of the group's advisor, Mrs. Winifred Field. Tryouts were held and twelve girls were chosen.

Rehearsals began immediately in September and the group made its first public appearance at the Interdorm Sing. Subsequently they appeared at the Senior Mix, the Eastern States Editors' Convention at Hotel Northampton, the banquet held for Amherst's new residents, President Lederle's Faculty Dance and the I.F.C. Skits and many other places.

THESE "GALS" HAVE A special way with a song, and they have delighted the entire campus with their singing. No barber shop quartet ever looked like this!

Operetta Guild Features 1962 Production of "Oklahoma"

THE OPERETTA GUILD THIS YEAR produced the musical play, "Oklahoma." The Guild under the direction of Doric Alviani began producing Broadway musicals in 1947. During this time the Guild has produced several college premieres including Rodgers and Hammerstein's "South Pacific" and "Carousel."

"WOULD YOU BELIEVE IT?" I've never seen a mouse that size before! It must be the air in this part of the country." Really the curtain call for "Oklahoma."

BEHIND THE SCENES, all is not calm, as one aspiring actress nervously clasps and unclasps her hands.

THE ROISTER DOISTERS is the campus drama society. It offers a creative outlet for students interested in the dramatic arts and fosters knowledge of all phases of the theatre. Membership is open to any interested student.

During the 1961-62 season the Roister Doisters presented "Volpone," directed by Miss Doris Abramson of the Speech department, with students in charge of lighting, make-up, costumes, publicity, and all other aspects of production.

"O LORD, I IMPLORE THEE, lift this campus up from the depths of mud, slush, and snow, and give us dry, dry land once again." MICK BROADHURST in his starring role of Volpone.

INTERNATIONAL CLUB

"I'M NOT SURE that it's worth it. When I think of those warm days at home, all this snow is more than I can take."

THE INTERNATIONAL CLUB is composed of both foreign and American students who promote international understanding through speakers, films, and slides. They also participate actively in the International Weekend held every year on campus. The club helps to create feelings of friendship among the many students who are far from home and are adapting themselves to a new and strange way of life.

IN THE SPRING OF 1960, the initial plan and principles constituting the club were drawn up by Parker Shanahan. On August 18, 1960, the organization became incorporated.

The club tries to promote an interest and awareness in the use and maintenance of aircraft for the pleasure, recreation and use of the members.

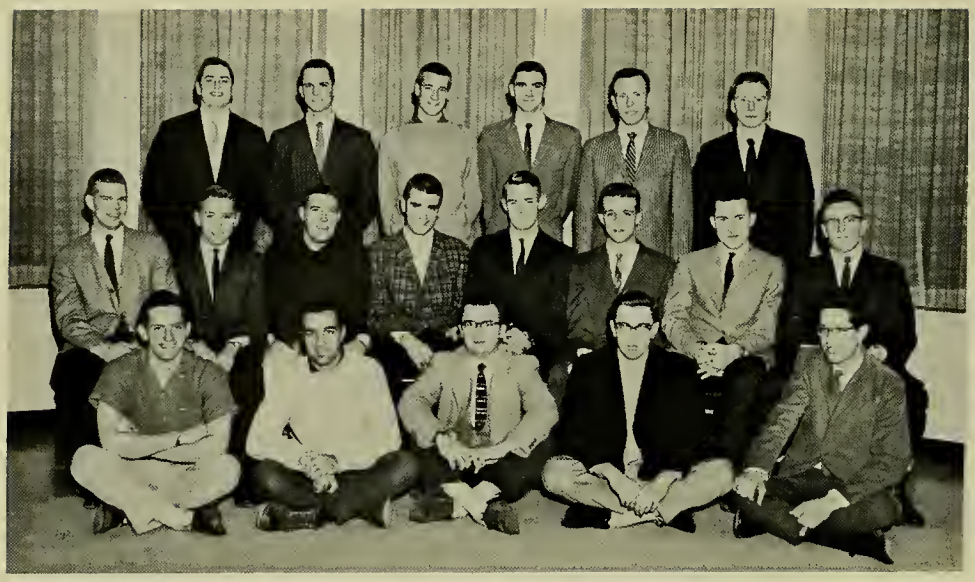

"FIRST IT WAS MY car, and now it's my plane. Who says that there's been progress over the years?"

HILLEL FOUNDATION

B'NAI BRITH HILLEL FOUNDATION provides the Jewish student with an opportunity for continued "away-from-home" observance of his faith as well as an opportunity for continued learning in areas of specific Jewish concern.

The program encompasses religious, cultural, and social activities and includes lectures on a variety of topics. It also provides Holiday and Sabbath services, classes in Hebrew, Yiddish, and Jewish beliefs and customs, and suppers and breakfasts which bring a little bit of home to the campus.

NEWMAN CLUB

OFFICERS—Rita Lisciotti, Executive Board, Mary Jane Papp, First Vice-President, Fred Dumas, Executive Board, Penny Matthews, Recording Secretary, Connie Creamer (standing), Corresponding Secretary. Missing: George Fisette, Treasurer, Bob Savoy, President.

THE NEWMAN CLUB is organized to provide religious, social, and educational well-being for all Roman Catholic students at the University. The varied program includes bimonthly meetings with prominent speakers, a weekly seminar, closed retreats, a Living Rosary at Christmas, and dormitory rosaries throughout the year. A Communion breakfast is held during Open House Weekend and selected students are sponsored to a Newman School of Catholic Thought in June. A new Newman Center, currently under construction, will provide facilities for Masses, meetings, seminars, and social events. It is hoped that this will be opened in the early part of the fall of 1962.

CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION

THE PURPOSE of the Christian Association is to encourage the individual to challenge and search into the Christian faith; to develop a faith in Christ that has personal meaning; and to express his faith responsibly in every area of life, individually and in a fellowship committed to the fulfillment of these concerns."

To fulfill this purpose, the Christian Association offers varied programs, activities, and programs. Weekly vespers, noncredit religion courses, coffee hours, and Christmas and Lenten Vespers are just a few of the programs offered to the campus.

S.U.G. BOARD

THE STUDENT UNION Governing Board has a membership representing students and faculty. The Board establishes all policies for the use of Union facilities and has the responsibility under the President and Board of Trustees of implementing these policies. The Board approves the operating budget of the Student Union and makes provisions for an Executive Student Union Program Committee. The purpose of the Board is to see that a social, cultural, and educational program of activities and services are provided for the University students and the campus community.

PROGRAM COMMITTEE

THE EXECUTIVE STUDENT Union Program Committee coordinates all programs that are run by the Program Committees and is actively involved in the selection, planning, execution and evaluation of all new and existing programs. The committees together aim at presenting recreational, educational, and cultural programs in the interest of the students and the campus community. With the assistance of a Program Coordinator the Committee strives to present a well-balanced program of activities in the Student Union.

MEMBERS OF OUTING CLUB—Francis Howarth, Nancy West, Kenneth Stibolt, Barbara Baranowski, Eleanor Harrington, Leslie Bowker, President. Missing: Bruce Myers.

OUTING CLUB

THE OUTING CLUB has activities planned for nearly every weekend of the school year. One-day trips include hikes, cook-outs, bike-hikes, and spelunking in the fall. A trip to Lake George for canoeing and camping is also enjoyed by many. Skiing and skating are enjoyed in the winter, and in the spring a sugar-eat, mountain-climbing, and cook-outs provide fun for everyone. Square dances with other colleges are held occasionally during the year. Non-members are welcome to participate in Outing Club activities.

ALPHA LAMBDA DELTA

ALPHA LAMBDA DELTA, freshman women's honor society, started the school year with a new advisor, Miss Eva Schiffer of the German Department, and a fall initiation of four more girls from the class of 1964. In order to inaugurate a new program to alert freshmen to our existence and activities, two sophomore members assisted Dean Huntzberger of Arts and Science and Dean Purvis of Education, in their Pre-registration convocations. We are hoping to welcome many new girls from the class of 1965 this spring.

SIGMA GAMMA EPSILON

ACADEMIC LIFE

Governor John A. Volpe

GOVERNOR VOLPE shown last year addressing students and faculty at the inauguration of President Lederle.

President Dr. John Lederle "My Door Is Always Open"

IN HIS TWO YEARS at the University, President Lederle has been a busy individual coping with the many problems associated with progress. Busy as he is, he has always had time to listen to student views.

To meet the higher educational needs of the University, President Lederle has advocated a policy of fiscal autonomy, a policy designed to make autonomy commensurate with responsibility.

Gilbert L. Woodside, Provost

Provost

PROVOST WOODSIDE RECEIVED HIS A.B. degree from De Pauw University, in Indiana; his M.A. degree and his PhD. from Harvard University. He came here in 1936 as Assistant professor of Biology. After being Pre-Med. advisor for ten years, he became the head of the Department of Zoology in 1948. He maintained this position until he was appointed as Provost this year.

His job lies in his responsibility for the entire academic program for the University. He works with the deans of all the schools and colleges of the University with regard to curriculum and to the hiring and promoting of faculty.

His interests include squash, tennis, hiking, and photography. He goes on camping trips with his family, and has visited several National Parks.

PROVOST WOODSIDE DOES RESEARCH on the curriculum for next year.

Secretary

Mr. Gillespie is the Assistant to President Lederle as well as Secretary of the University of Massachusetts. He previously worked as teacher and administrator with the University of Texas and East Central State College. He has written three books concerning his significant activity in the field of city and state government.

Richard Doolan, Acting Secretary

Kenneth Johnson, Treasurer

Treasurer

Mr. Johnson has been treasurer of the University since January, 1952. Before assuming that post, he was assistant to the provost at Champlain College of the State University of New York. In addition to administrative posts, Mr. Johnson has taught college courses in business and industrial management.

A COFFEE HOUR provides the setting as Hugh Calkin, '61, assistant Alumni Director, Director Evan Johnston, and Senate President Arthur "Tex" Tacelli talk over the problems of keeping up the interest of students after graduation.

Through Their Mem Hall Office
15,000 Alumni Keep In Touch

ALUMNI DIRECTOR EVAN JOHNSTON was a graduate of Massachusetts State College in 1950 with a major in mathematics. The former Navy Pilot, who saw action in Korea, now resides in Easthampton with his wife and two children. Evan, an ex-Massachusetts football player, is also Chairman of the Athletic Council at the University and Adviser to Adelphia.

THE ALUMNI OFFICE PROVIDES a connecting link between the past and present for approximately fifteen thousand graduates. Besides keeping an up to date file on each graduate—a monumental project—the office sends out to each of them the Alumnus magazine four times a year to keep them abreast of the latest developments. Among their other projects is the holding of three Memorial Lectures each year such as the Robert Frost appearance this year. The Alumni Association has also given financial assistance to the Massachusetts Review, the quarterly literary magazine.

Their most recent effort has been a coffee hour to acquaint students with the many facets of this organization which is proving invaluable to students while they are in school and again after they graduate.

SOMETHING OLD—CAMPUS POND has been around in one form or another for many years. Back in 1867 it was merely a little stream which trickled across the barren campus. Besides being a picturesque sight in the summer it also provides students with a king-sized skating rink in winter time.

Something Old—Something New

SOMETHING NEW—Now that the enrollment at the University is reaching toward the seven-thousand mark it has become quite a problem caring for and curing all of the ills that students inevitably seem to get. To solve the problem, a spacious new infirmary with the most modern facilities has been built near Brooks dormitory to replace the cramped quarters at the old infirmary near Marshall Hall.

Miss Helen Curtis, Dean of Women, came to the University of Massachusetts in 1945. Before coming here, she was on the Dean's Staff in the women's college of Rutgers University. She attended Iowa State Teachers College and majored in Sociology. At Columbia University, she received her Master's Degree in Student Personnel Administration. Helping with the planning of the women's dormitories, and helping with the work of designing a new dining commons, are some of the many contributions of Dean Curtis.

Music, sports, and international relations take up some of Miss Curtis' spare time. She is also a great advocate of student-administration cooperation.

Miss Helen Curtis, Dean of Women

University

Mrs. Isabelle Gonon, Assistant Dean of Women

Mrs. Isabelle Gonon, Assistant Dean of Women, received her Bachelor's Degree at Mt. Holyoke College and her Master's Degree from Smith College. She also did other graduate work at Middlebury College, and at Bryn Mawr she was director of the French House. Later, she travelled abroad.

Before coming to the University four years ago, Mrs. Gonon experienced personnel work in industry as well as at other universities. When time permits, she enjoys refinishing furniture and attending auctions.

Robert S. Hopkins, Dean of Men

Dean Hopkins, Dean of Men, graduated from Rutgers University and received his Bachelor of Arts degree in Languages and Literature. He also received his Master's Degree in Education at Rutger's. Before coming here in 1948, he was the Dean of New London Junior College. When he came here, he was appointed Dean of Men.

Among his many Memberships are: the F and A Masons, Society for the Advancement of Education, Phi Eta Sigma, and Retired Officers Association. Dean Hopkins enjoys anything associated with the North Woods, such as canoeing, hunting, and mountain climbing.

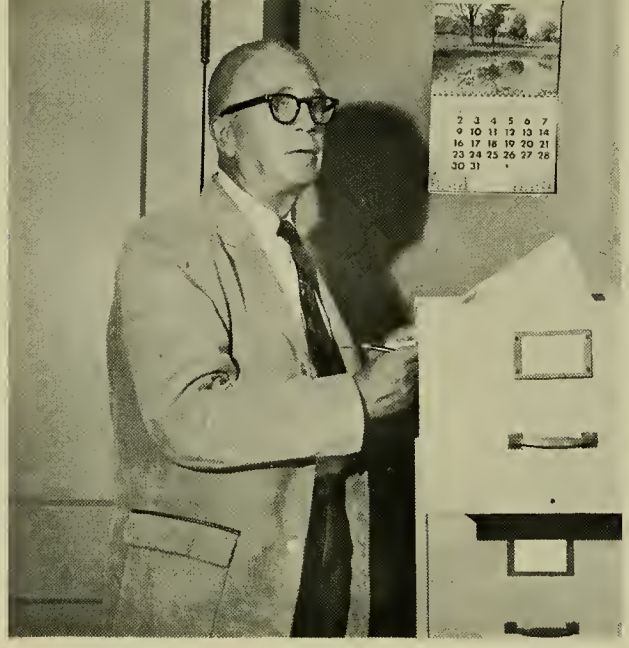

Deans

William H. Burkhardt, Jr., Assistant Dean of Men

Assistant Dean of Men, William Burkhardt, is a graduate of Emerson College, where he received his Bachelor of Arts degree in English and History. In 1959, he obtained his Master's Degree in Business Administration at the University of Massachusetts. In 1957 he was appointed faculty resident at Van Meter, and in January, 1958, he received his position as Assistant Dean of Men.

Mr. Burkhardt is an avid sailing enthusiast and races his boat frequently. Among his other interests are traveling and reading.

George E. Emery, Placement Officer

David P. Lawrence, Assistant director of Placement

Placement Officers

Miss Carole A. Leland, Placement Officer for Women, is an indispensable person on our campus. She went to Syracuse University and received her Bachelor of Arts degree in English. At Harvard Graduate School, she received her Master's Degree in History and Philosophy of Education. Before coming here this year, she was guidance counselor and director of Student Activities at Sparta High School in New Jersey. Here, she is advisor to Mortar Board. Music, skiing, and camping are among her many hobbies.

Robert J. Morrissey, Director of Placement and Financial Aid Services.

Registrars

William C. Starkweather, Assistant Registrar; Donald W. Cadigan, Associate Registrar; Marshall O. Lanphear, Registrar.

The job of the Registrars is quite a responsibility. Among their various jobs, is the task of keeping order in the near chaos of registration. They are in charge of arranging Counseling Day, Pre-Registration Day, and Registration Day. If a student wishes to change his major, the Registrars have to handle it. If a student wishes to audit a course, the Registrars have to approve it.

These men perform a tireless and much appreciated job.

Mr. William Scott, Coordinator of Student Activities.

MR. WILLIAM D. SCOTT has degrees from Marshall College (A.B. 1941) and the University of Michigan (M.A. 1948). He has previously been Director of the student unions at both the University of West Virginia and Texas Technical College. Besides having professional affiliations, Rotary Club and Association of College Unions, he also is the superintendent of Sunday School in Amherst, a member of their Bi-Centennial Committee, and a Lieutenant Commander in the Naval Reserve.

Mr. Edward Buck, R.S.O. Financial Advisor.

MR. EDWARD BUCK, the financial adviser to the many RSO organizations, is a graduate of Amherst College where he received a B.A. degree. He later did graduate work at Columbia and NYU. In the past he has been active in camping, scouting, community center activities and related fields. Mr. Buck's principal hobbies are gardening and landscape work. He is also a member of the faculty swimming group which meets three times a week.

Father Power, Catholic Chaplain.

FATHER POWER, CATHOLIC CHAPLAIN of the University is a native of Worcester and was educated in Worcester schools. He received his A.B. degree at Georgetown University and attended the University of Montreal for five years—one year in the School of Philosophy and four years in the Seminary of Theology. In 1948, he was appointed full-time chaplain at the University and was made Diocesan Director of Newman Clubs for the Springfield Diocese.

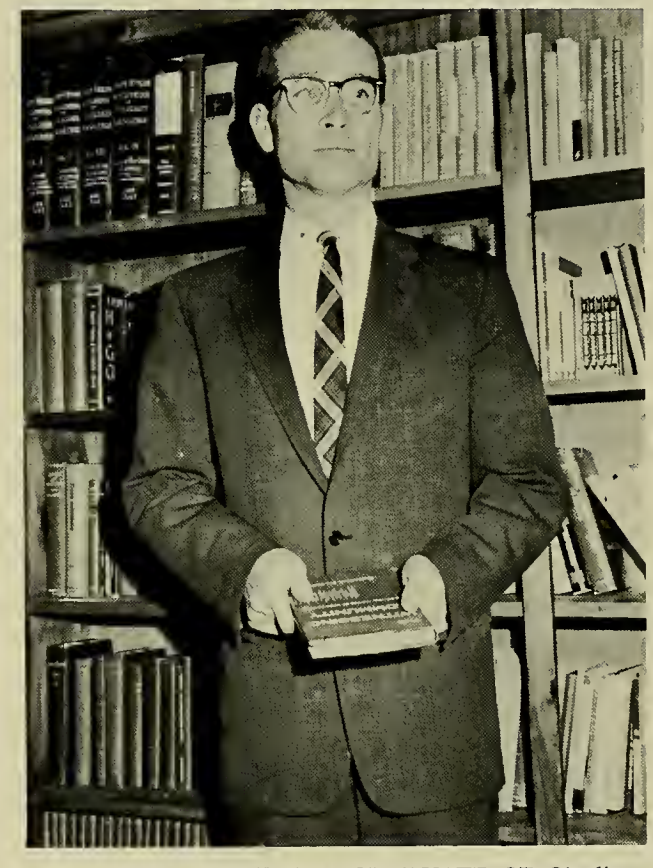

Our Chaplains

Rabbi Ruchames, Jewish Chaplain.

RABBI RUCHAMES HAS BEEN A member of the University for the past seventeen years. He is the chaplain for Amherst and Smith Colleges as well. He attended New York City College, Columbia University, and the Jewish Institute of Religion, and has received his B.S.S.; M.A.; and Ph.D. degrees. Rabbi Ruchames has written various books and articles including: Race, Jobs and a John Brown Reader.

Reverend Seely, Protestant Chaplain.

REVEREND SEELY IS A GRADUATE OF Oberlin College in Ohio. From Oberlin, he was sent to Western China, where he worked in the English Department of a refugee school. In 1947, he returned to Oberlin for graduate work, and later spent three years at Yale doing work on the New Testament. Reverend Seely came to the University in 1954, where he took the position of Protestant Chaplain.

Himy B. Kirshen, Dean of School of Business Administration.

DEAN KIRSHEN WAS GRADUATED from Whitman College in 1926, where he received a Bachelor of Science degree. He received his M.A. from Columbia and his Phd. from the University of Wisconsin. Before coming to the University in 1957, Dean Kirshen was a member of the faculty at the University of Maine for twenty-eight years during which time he served as head of the departments of business, economics, and sociology.

While doing graduate work in New York, he worked for a law firm. He has been a member of the Maine State Panel of Labor Mediators and a visiting professor of economics at the University of Wisconsin. In addition, during the summer of 1958, he was on the teaching staff of the Dartmouth program for American Telephone Executives.

SCHOOL OF BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION

MASSACHUSETTS BUSINESS CONCERNS can look to the University as a prime source of personnel for the boom years ahead. Fully accredited, the School of Business Administration at present has 600 undergraduate and graduate majors in its resident program and an additional 60 off campus.

Established in 1948, the school was first headed by Dr. Philip L. Gamble, presently head of the University's Department of Economics.

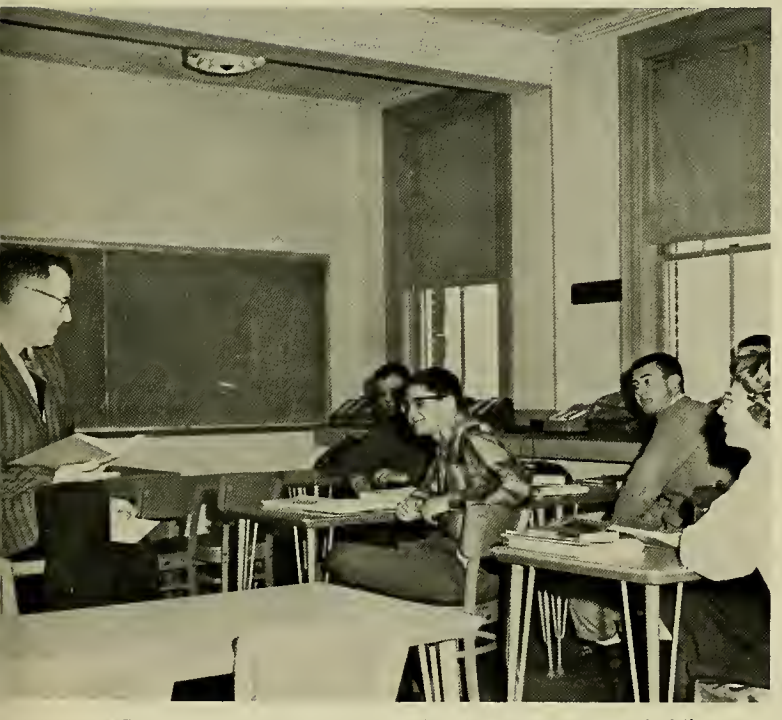

In 1952, Dr. Gamble, as Acting Dean, was succeeded by Dean Milo Kimball. During Dean Kimball's administration the Board of Trustees approved a graduate program which led to awarding of the first master of Business Administration degrees.

In 1957, Dean Kimball resigned and was succeeded by Dr. H. B. Kirshen. A former head of the department of business, economics, and sociology at the University of Maine, Dr. Kirshen had also served as an economic consultant with the Wage Stabilization Board, and had been a member of the Maine State Board of Labor Mediation.

A growing list of activities has been provided by reorganization of the school. Among these activities are the annual retailing conference conducted by the school for Massachusetts businessmen, and international programs in which 16 European business managers take a six-weeks course in junior executive training.

Dean Hunsberger

Dean Hunsberger

DR. HUNSBERGER, A RELATIVE NEWCOMER to the University, came here in September, 1960 as head of the Chemistry Department. He became the Dean of Arts and Sciences in March of 1961.

Originally from Pennsylvania, he reecived his B.S., M.S., and Ph.D. at Lehigh University. Before his work at the University, he taught at Antioch College and Fordham University.

At present, besides his position as Dean, Dr. Hunsberger is continuing research in Chemistry and teaching occasional courses.

THE COLLEGE OF ARTS AND SCIENCES

THE COLLEGE OF ARTS AND SCIENCES offers instruction in the fine arts, the humanities, the social sciences, the natural sciences, and mathematics both for students enrolled in the College and for those in other undergraduate divisions of the University. The program provides for the breadth of intellectual development essential to a liberal education and for concentration which is the necessary foundation for competence in a selected discipline.

The Bachelor of Arts degree may be earned by students majoring in any division of the College. The Bachelor of Science degree may be earned by students in the natural sciences or mathematics.

GEORGE A. MARSTON, DEAN OF THE SCHOOL OF ENGINEERING, came to the University in 1933. Before becoming the Dean of Engineering in 1947, he instructed Math, Engineering, and Civil Engineering at the University. He obtained his Bachelor of Science degree at Worcester Polytechnic Institute, his Master's Degree in hydraulics at the University of Iowa and has received an Honorary Doctorate degree in Engineering from Worcester Polytechnic Institute.

Outside the realm of engineering, Dean Marston is a Colonel in the United States Naval Reserve and has an interest in hiking, tennis, and gardening.

Employment Seeking Engineering Seniors Play Host To Over 200 Companies

PLANS AND SPECIFICATIONS are being completed for a major addition to the Main Engineering Building. A new Engineering Shop and Laboratory is under construction northwest of Gunness.

A major research contract with the Bureau of Ships of the Navy on "Effects of Nuclear Blasts on Ship Structures" has been undertaken in the Civil Engineering Department with Dr. M. P. White and Professor F. J. DZialo as project directors. In October of 1959, all five of our Engineering Curricula, namely, Chemical, Civil, Electrical, Mechanical, and the Industrial option, were reaccredited.

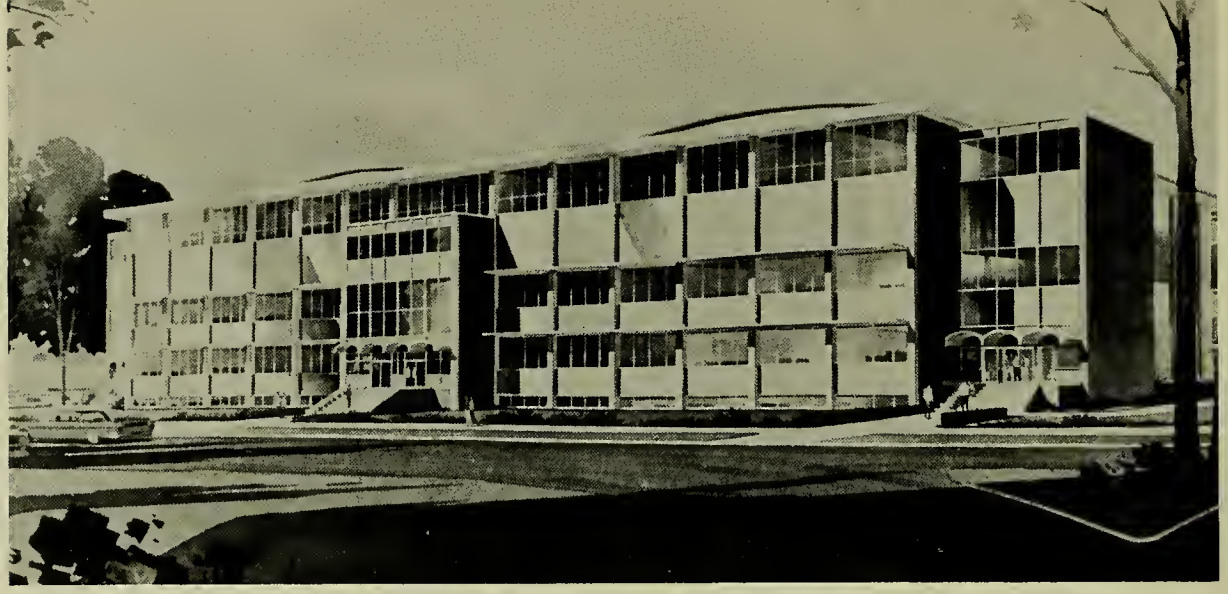

Also, in 1960, the average starting salary of our Engineering graduates was $550 per month. This year it looks as though it will be about four percent higher. About two hundred companies and organizations are recruiting on campus for engineers this year.

THE NEW $800,000 ENGINEERING SHOPS LABORATORY, now nearing completion, will contain over 20,000 square feet of floor space available for teaching and laboratory work. The addition of this new laboratory will help to centralize many of the facilities of the rapidly increasing scope of the Engineering school.

GUNNESS LABORATORY, BUILT IN 1948, is used primarily for laboratory work, an example being a large and complete electrical machinery lab where students may supplement their motor and generator theory with actual use of these devices.

PLAN FOR THE NEW MEN'S PHYSICAL EDUCATION BUILDING, which will be constructed in the near future.

MEN'S PHYSICAL EDUCATION

THE SCHOOL OF PHYSICAL EDUCATION offers major areas of professional preparation in Physical Education and Recreation Leadership and provides a broad program of Physical Education for all freshmen and sophomore students. The administration of an extensive program of Intercollegiate and Intramural Athletics is under the direction of the School.

The major programs in Physical Education are designed to prepare men and women for careers in teaching physical education and in elected minor academic fields in elementary and secondary schools.

Warren P. McGuirk, Dean of the School of Physical Education.

DEAN McGUIRK GRADUATED FROM Boston College in 1929, and attended Boston University Graduate School where he received his Ed.M. in Physical Education. He taught General Science at Malden High School and was Director of Physical Education and athletics, as well. At the Naval Academy in Annapolis, Maryland, he received indoctrination in Naval Aviation Physical Training. Among the many clubs and organizations Dean McGuirk belongs to are: the Massachusetts State Coaches' Association; the Gridiron Club of Boston; and the Boston College Variety Club, of which he was the first president.

Ruth J. Totman, Head of Department of Women's Physical Education.

MISS RUTH TOTMAN, HEAD OF the Department of Physical Education for Women is a graduate of the Sargent School for Physical Education. She received her B.S. degree from Douglass College and her Masters in Education from the University of Pittsburgh. Miss Totman came to the University of Massachusetts in 1943, having taught previously in New York, Pennsylvania, and New Jersey. Among her favorite pastimes is gardening.

WOMEN'S PHYSICAL EDUCATION

THE COURSES IN PHYSICAL EDUCATION are planned to prepare women students for professional careers. Special attention is given to preparing teachers for elementary and secondary schools in both physical and health education. The graduate will also qualify for teaching sports and dance in social agencies, industrial plants, civic centers, and camps. The curriculum gives a broad general background as well as the professional preparation. There is opportunity for individual selection in order to provide a minor.

Dean Purvis, School of Education.

DEAN PURVIS attended the University of New Brunswick where he received his A.B. degree. At Harvard University he received his Ph.D. and his ED.D. degrees. He was a teacher and a principal of schools in New Brunswick before coming to the University of Massachusetts in 1936.

SCHOOL OF EDUCATION

THE SCHOOL OF EDUCATION moved into its new quarters in September, 1961. In addition to the offices and classrooms of the School of Education the new building also houses a Reading Clinic, an Audio-Visual Center and the elementary education Laboratory School which is used for demonstration, observation and research by the elementary education majors.

A unique feature of the Laboratory School is the upstair corridor from which students can observe the elementary school classes through one-way glass, and the use of closed-circuit television for observation of classes and for the teaching of special lessons.

Student programs are available in both elementary and secondary school teaching on the undergraduate level and in training in guidance, administration, supervision, audio-visual education and reading consultant on the graduate level.

Dr. Arless Spielman

Dean Spielman

ON JULY 1, 1961, A NOTED RESEARCHER, Dr. Arless Spielman, was named as Dean of the College of Agriculture to succeed Dr. Dale Sieling. Dr. Spielman, who is a specialist in animal physiology and nutrition, will also serve as Director of the Massachusetts Experimental Station and Director of the Cooperative Extension Service.

THE HOME OF THE COLLEGE OF AGRICULTURE can be seen in the background. Stockbridge Hall, erected in 1914, also houses Bowker Auditorium, scene of all major campus dramatic productions such as Oklahoma, put on this year by the Operetta Guild.

THE COLLEGE OF AGRICULTURE at the University of Massachusetts has been an integral part of the University for many years but it was not until May, 1955 that it was officially assigned college status. Its organization and programs are now divided into four major divisions: Instruction, Reasearch, Extension, and Control. The college offers both a four year and a two year course of study designed to train people needed for the great agricultural and food industries.

The Experimental Station was established in 1887 to provide the research needed to improve the agricultural industry. The Cooperative Extension Service, established in 1909, extends the scientific, technical and cultural resources of the University for the solving of the many agricultural problems which exist today.

Lt. Colonel Albert W. Aykroyd, Military Science.

LT. COLONEL ALBERT W. AYKROYD IS the new professor of Military Science at the University. After graduating from the University of Massachusetts in 1941, he was commissioned a second Lieutenant in the reserve Cavalry Armor School. During World War II the Colonel served in Europe, from 1948 until 1952 he was in Japan, and in the Korean conflict he served in the second Infantry Division in that country. His last tour of duty was from 1957 to 1961 in Europe.

MEN OF THE MILITARY

Colonel John C. Marchant, Air Science.

COLONEL JOHN C. MARCHANT, HEAD OF AIR SCIENCE, came to the University in 1928. He received his earlier training at the National University Law School in Washington, D. C.; and at the University of Maryland. In 1951, he became a Colonel. He served in the southwest Pacific and in Panama, and has been awarded the Presidential Citation. The colonel is a member of the George Washington Law Association and Supreme Court of the United States.

COLONEL MARCHANT INFORMS the students on the position of the military in the current scene as it relates to future.

R.O.T.C. PROVIDES BASIC TRAINING in leadership and citizenship. It is the means by which young men may assure themselves that their military service is performed in commissioned status. The second two years of R.O.T.C. are not only elective, but selective as well. The best qualified volunteers are permitted to continue on to a reserve commission. Participation in the Reserve Officers Training Corps has notable effect on character development. It discloses to the Army and Air Force existing officer material and potential leaders.

Dean M. A. Maher, Dean of School of Nursing.

AFTER GRADUATION FROM ROBINSON SEMINARY IN EXETER, New Hampshire, Miss Mahar entered the Rhode Island Hospital School of Nursing. She completed the requirements for her M.A. degree through study at Simmons College and at Teachers College, Columbia University.

Her early professional experiences as a teacher and supervisor at the Strong Memorial School of Nursing, as well as her own school of nursing in Rhode Island have provided her with a background which has been used in the various roles in which she has served nursing.

In October, 1953, she assumed the responsibility of developing a basic nursing program at the University of Massachusetts.

School of Nursing Begun In 1954; Now Over 200 Students Enrolled

THE SCHOOL OF NURSING, initiated in 1954, has shown a progressive growth so that at present there are over one hundred students enrolled.

Since the establishment of the School, its students have been very active in student nursing organizations. The School has annually participated in the National Association of Student Nurses.

Graduates from the nursing program are eligible for the licensing examinations for registration in any state. The graduates of this program are presently employed in public health, psychiatric, medical, and surgical nursing throughout the country.

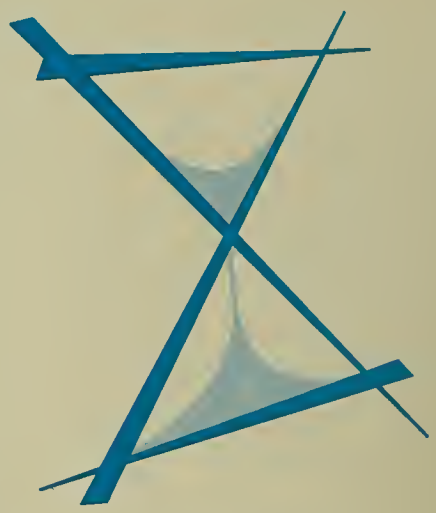

DR. NIEDERPRUEM came to Massachusetts from Michigan State University where she was Professor of Home Economics. She received her B.S. Degree at Buffalo, New York; and her M.A. from New York University. At the University of Michigan, she received her Ph.D. She served as Head of the Department of Home Economics at the College of St. Elizabeth in New Jersey and later as principal of Girls' Vocational and Home Economics Department at the New Jersey School for the Deaf. In a project jointly sponsored by Michigan State University and the National Retail Merchants Association, she recently directed research in determining the most effective type of college education for executive careers in retailing and discovering how stores can improve their training programs for executives.

Dr. Marion A. Niederpruem, Dean of School of Home Economics.

School of Home Economics Provides Professionalism in Nutrition, Fashion

THE SCHOOL OF HOME ECONOMICS offers an area of study which applies the basic principles of arts and sciences to enrich the curricula that provide professional competence in the areas of Foods and Nutrition, Clothing-Textiles and Related Arts and Home Economics Education. Career opportunities abound in all fields. Specifically, the Foods and Nutrition options provide career opportunities for dietitians in various types of food services, for nutritionists in community and social welfare agencies and for Home Economists in the food industry and allied enterprises. Stimulating and creative opportunities available to the Clothing, Textiles and Related Arts major are found in the field of Fashion—through the avenues of retailing, promotion, and related business.

SENIORS

DR. JOHN R. VAN STEEMBERG

Dr. Van—Adviser To The Class of '62

WE MIGHT SAY that there are two types of advisers, the one who seems to be omnipresent in class activities, and again the one who gives the class a disinterested free rein.

Luckily the Class of '62 has had neither, but instead has had a man willing to go along with most ideas but at the same time who insured that mature ideas would prevail.

Dr. Van Steemberg received his M.A. from the University of Chicago and later his Ph.D. from Harvard University. Presently he is an instructor of History. Knowing Dr. Van's opinions on a basketful of platitudes, the Class of '62 would like to gather up all its thoughts into a simple "thank you."

GEORGE, DR. VAN STEEMBERG'S canine friend, decided that he would also like to have his picture in this year's Index.

WHEREFORE INDEX?

I MUST AGREE that it isn't the most romantic title ever given a yearbook. People are continually getting us confused with the Student Directory, but we don't mind. Actually, the name stems from the year 1871 when the first Index was published. At that time, it was just that—an index.

Beginning as a small paperback, it consisted of categorical references to departments, subjects, societies, etc., with little emphasis on activities. This is understandable, particularly, since there was little to do outside of studying besides watering the horses. However, we've come a long way. The Indexes over the years have been large, small, formal, informal, with just about every approach you might imagine. This is the big problem—how to approach a publication which must cater to the whims and opinions of 6,000 students.

As Dean Martin says, "You can't love 'em all." Well, we can't please 'em all, but we have sincerely tried, at the same time, attempting to maintain certain principles of good taste and practice. There was a time when the yearbook was merely a scrapbook with a smorgasbord of pictures and cartoons. Those days are gone. It now must be not only a lasting memento, but also a public relations organ which completely and accurately covers every major facet of University life.

I hope you enjoy the 1962 Index, particularly the opening Centennial section; the staff has thoroughly enjoyed presenting it to you!

Yours truly,
Ed Rodriguez

idea man . . . the Keller yearbook representative

ROSWELL FARNHAM

To the casual reader a yearbook is often simply an "album" of pictures with accompanying identifications and enough written text to fill up the remaining holes on the pages. Merely ink on paper . . . though nice to own and enjoy.

But to the staff and the adviser the yearbook means much more. For yearbook work comprises a multitude of details: Layout, Art, Photography, Copy, Typography, Covers and Binding (not to mention the small detail of money-raising). Highly technical and often confusing, these details are at the very least time-consuming and a source of anxiety to a staff unless the publisher's representative is company-trained to give needed help and suggestions.

All representatives for Wm. J. Keller Inc. are skilled in the many facets of yearbook work, having at their finger-tips the answers to yearbook problems as well as a multitude of ideas for new graphic arts special effects, to enable the staff to produce a yearbook that is different and attractive. Your Keller salesman is more than a technical adviser, he is a "clearing-house" of yearbook ideas.
